Women's Group Answers Many Question About Procedures

The concerted "get out the vote" drive by many local organizations appears to be bringing results.

Not only has the first day registration totals in Kingston exceeded those of the first day four years ago, but many persons are reportedly asking questions about what election district they live in and where they should go to register—a certain indication that they have not voted here previously and are at least thinking seriously about voting this year.

Registration in Kingston on Friday totaled 4,149—over 500 more than registered on the first day of registration for the last presidential election in 1948. Central registration and the number of applications for absentee ballots also pointed to an unusually large vote in November in Ulster county.

Volunteer staffers at the Ulster County Women's Republican Club headquarters at 660 Broadway have been asked by many persons to help them find out what election district they live in, it was reported by Miss Alice M. Scardfield, the club president.

Others have asked about the various qualifications such as the length of time they must reside in a district before being eligible to vote.

New Voters Are Seen

Miss Scardfield reported that to her these inquiries were a definite indication that "a good many" new voters will go to the polls to register and on Nov. 4 to vote.

Interest in the candidates and campaign issues appears to be high, also judging from the questions being asked at the Women's Republican Club headquarters. "There appear to be more interested people than I've ever known in my life," Miss Scardfield commented.

On Friday, the first day of registration in Kingston, there were numerous calls at the headquarters for the various services which had been offered.

On member, for instance, went to Lucas avenue to sit with a 95-year-old lady while her daughter went to register. Others provided transportation for aged persons so they could get to the polling place in their district.

As a result of the numerous inquiries about voting regulations and district boundaries, Miss Scardfield reported that the club has gathered together at headquarters the various maps showing district boundaries, and copies of the regulations.

As a sidelight to the services performed at the headquarters, Miss Scardfield reported that it seemed as if "all the children in the universe" are coming in for campaign buttons—"the larger the better." Although these children are too young to vote, the women indicated they were happy to comply with the requests.

Many national organizations are currently staging a campaign of unprecedented proportions to sell the people on the idea of wanting to vote. The non-partisan effort has been stressed by such organizations as the Boy Scouts of America.

In Ulster county, many civic organizations joined in the effort, which was coordinated by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. The goal is to have 51,366 persons vote on Nov. 4. It is estimated that the county has 62,112 potential voters.

Diaz Is Assigned Police Guard After He Reports Phone Threat

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Dominican Republic's consul general said today that a slain foe of his country's Trujillo regime had switched political sides and feared his former associates.

The consul general, Dr. Felix W. Bernardino, said in a telegram sent to newspapers that Andres Requena had appealed to him for protection despite statements by his "so-called friends" trying to classify him as a still active enemy of the Dominican government.

Requena, 44, who put out intermittently the newspaper, De Patria, was slain late Thursday night by a shadowy gunman in a lower East Side apartment hallway. He was lured to the death rendezvous by a mysterious telephone call.

Juan M. Diaz, who once worked as co-publisher with Requena, was assigned a police guard late yesterday after he reported receiving a telephoned threat at his home that he was "next." Diaz was associated in the anti-Trujillo newspaper until an argument about a month ago.

Bernardino's statement today confused the political picture as 25 city detectives were ordered to concentrate on a hunt for Requena's slayer and a motive in the baffling crime.

In Havana, Cuba, the Dominican revolutionary party last night blamed the slaying on the "tyranny" headed by former Dominican President Rafael Trujillo.

Fiercely Critical

De Patria was fiercely critical of the regime led by Trujillo and his brother, Hector, who has succeeded him as president of the little nation sharing a Caribbean island with the Republic of Haiti. Two Dominican Republic officials, at the capital city of Ciudad Trujillo, said Requena lacked "political, social or intellectual significance" in that country. The officials were Gen. Felix Hermida, military intelligence chief, and Col. Maximino Bonetti Burgos, head of the national police.

And in New York, Bernardino said last night in a statement that Requena followed the Communist party line.

Meat Prices Drop

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—A sharp drop in the price of meats caused a decline in government-figured wholesale prices for the week ending last Tuesday—the sixth straight weekly drop reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS). Although meats as a whole declined 3.4 per cent for the week, farm products reversed a recent downward trend and advanced seven-tenths of one per cent, mainly because of higher prices for many fresh fruits, vegetables, steers, calves, hogs, and eggs. The new BLS index was 111 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

U.S. Will Hit Back at Reds Over Ouster

Acheson Expects Protest at Moscow's Action in Demanding Recall of Kennan

Might Vacate Post

America Might Leave Ambassadorship Open as Emphasis

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—The United States is expected to hit back soon at Russia for ousting Ambassador George F. Kennan on grounds he "slandered" the Soviets by comparing American life in Moscow to its internment by the Nazis.

Secretary of State Acheson and his principal aides started studying means of retaliation as soon as Moscow's demands for Kennan's recall yesterday plunged troubled American-Soviet relations into a new crisis.

Acheson, after a telephone conference with President Truman, forecast there probably would be a sharp protest note to the Kremlin shortly. Officials looked for the Moscow post to be left vacant for a long time as an expression of American resentment.

The United States could expel newly-arrived Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin, but Acheson told newsmen there was "no present indication" of doing this. He apparently ruled out any idea of breaking off diplomatic relations.

First in History

As far as officials could determine, it was the first time in history an American ambassador has been ousted on the ground he was persona non grata, or personally unacceptable.

The episode overshadowed another major diplomatic development—the replacement of Sir Oliver Franks as British ambassador in Washington by Sir Roger Makins. Franks asked to be relieved after four years in the U. S. capital.

The change in British ambassadors was announced last night in London. Franks is leaving for home Nov. 28.

Makins, a tall, 48-year-old diplomat who like Franks is an economist as well, is due here in time for the presidential inauguration in January.

A former minister-counselor at the Washington embassy, Makins is a brother-in-law of William McCleskey Martin, Federal Reserve Board chairman. Both married daughters of the late Dwight F. Davis, one-time secretary of war.

Might Recall Zarubin

Should Kennan's post be left vacant indefinitely, some authorities said privately they believed it likely Moscow might voluntarily recall Zarubin, with the result that relations between Washington and Moscow could degenerate to a routine character handled by subordinate officials.

Several congressmen, however, said they favored some sort of retaliatory action. They included Reps. Burleson (D-Tex.), Machrowicz (D-Mich.), and Battle (D-Ala.) and Sens. Morse (R-Ore.) and Cordon (R-Ore.).

"I don't think we ought to take this lying down," Battle said. "The only thing they understand are power plays."

"If the Communists don't want to accept the ambassador we see," he said.

A question was relayed to him later through a press secretary as to whether he still liked "Old Joe."

"No comment," was the relayed reply.

Ike Says Opponents Try to Brush off Communist Angles

Eisenhower Calls Attitude 'Criminal Folly'—His Campaign Moves Westward

By DON WHITEHEAD

Aboard the Eisenhower Special, Oct. 3 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower moved his presidential campaign westward today, leaving in his trail a scalding indictment of an administration he said was "confused by the opiate" of Communist deceit.

Speaking in the 14,000-seat Milwaukee arena last night—to a house that was about two-thirds full—the GOP presidential nominee described efforts to minimize the Communist infiltration into government as "criminal folly."

And then he asserted—at least by implication—that President Truman and Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson had tried to dismiss the Communists in government problem lightly.

"We have all had enough," Eisenhower said, "of those who have sneered at the warnings of men trying to drive Communists from high places—but who have never had the sense or the stamina to take after the Communists themselves."

Supports McCarthy

With this speech, Eisenhower supported the position of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin that disloyalty and subversion still are grave threats to the nation's security. Then he headed for Minnesota and North Dakota.

McCarthy spoke to the crowd shortly before Eisenhower began his speech—and touched off a roar of cheering, punctuated by some boos.

He asserted: "As long as I represent the people of Wisconsin I will call them as I see them—no matter who happens to be president."

He called Eisenhower a man who would "make a great president—an outstanding president." He said with a grin, he had talked with the GOP candidate but "I can't report we agree entirely on everything." The crowd laughed.

He went on to attack the administration which he said "believes in a war prosperity."

It Can't Be Done

Then talking of this prosperity and the casualties in Korea, he said: "How can you separate the jobs from the bodies? It can't be done."

McCarthy was interrupted at one point by boos and then a fight broke out between two youths in the rear of the arena.

"I don't let a few trouble makers bother me," McCarthy said.

Official Reports More Than 400,000 to Sign in That County

Albany, Oct. 4 (AP)—Upstate voters are registering early and in record-threatening numbers for the Nov. 4 presidential election.

At the close of the first day of personal registration last night, unofficial figures showed big gains in almost all cities over the number who signed up first for the Truman-Dewey election in 1948. Several cities chalked up new marks.

Buffalo, the state's second largest city, had a turnout of 74,335, just shy of the first-day record of 75,594 set in 1944. The figure was far ahead of 45,898 registered in 1948.

Rochester Has Record

In Rochester, the first-day record was smashed by a turnout of 53,864. The comparable figure in 1948 was 34,495. The 1944 turnout totaled 41,358.

Troy reported a new high of 10,147 as against the previous record of 7,459 set in 1948.

Albany's 25,891 represented a gain of 2,965 over 1948.

At Elmira, 7,395 signed up, compared with the previous first-day high of 6,493 in 1944.

Utica, with nine of 80 districts not reported, counted 11,654 compared with 8,585 in 1948.

No Nassau Totals

No figures were released in Nassau county, where registration dates coincide with upstate areas, but elections commissioner William Meisner said the total might hit an unprecedented 400,000.

MOST CITIES—2 Gloversville set what was believed to be a first-day record when 3,765 persons signed up. The 1948 kickoff figure was 2,473.

Other first-day totals with 1948 figures in brackets included: Cohoes—3,168 (2,744), a new record.

Oneonta—1,928 (1,048).

Watervliet—2,031 (1,800).

Rensselaer—1,571 (1,244).

Over 5,000 Must Sign

Residents of all communities of 5,000 or more must register personally to be eligible to vote.

Yesterday was the first regular registration date for all the state except New York city and Westchester county. The registration centers were open again today from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. next week, registration hours will be from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Friday, and from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturday, closing day.

For New York city and Westchester county, registration begins Monday and will continue daily through Saturday. Hours are 5 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 7 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 11.

For Rural Communities

Non-personal registration in rural areas and smaller communities will be from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. today and from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. Oct. 11.

Tells Farmers in Iowa GOP Is No Good for Nation's Farmers

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Oct. 4 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson stacked the Democratic farm record today alongside what he said is a GOP "record of obstruction" and told the nation's farmers:

"You'd better be careful what you do on Election Day."

The Democratic presidential nominee picked this town in the heart of the corn belt for his second major farm speech of the campaign—a speech that laid down no new Democratic promises to the people who till the land.

Hits Farm 'Record'

Instead, Stevenson cracked down on the Republican farm record and his Republican rival, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I don't believe," he said in his prepared text, "America will entrust its future to the masters of a house divided against itself on foreign policy, on domestic policy and perhaps most of all on farm policy."

The Illinois governor pounded at Eisenhower as having admitted being "at sea" on farm problems and then taking bad advice on them. He said in effect that the GOP has no farm policy of its own—only a copy of the Democratic platform. But it does have, he said, a "yes-but" candidate running on a "yes-but" platform, advised by a "has-been" staff.

Mid-Day Stop

Fort Dodge was a mid-day speaking stop between major campaign addresses last night at Columbus, Ohio, and tonight at St. Paul, Minn. Twenty-five electoral votes are at stake in Ohio. And Stevenson was political prowling for 10 more in Iowa and 11 in Minnesota.

Stevenson spent Friday on his first campaign swing into Ohio. He devoted the day to ripping into

Total This Month Is Six MIGs Downed, 12 Damaged in Fights

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 4 (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said UN jet pilots blasted a North Korean coal mine into flaming ruin and downed two more Red MIG-15s today. On the ground allied infantrymen recaptured three western front outposts hills, including blood-soaked "Big Neri."

Sabre pilots reported shooting down the MIGs and damaging five others as they protected F-84 Thunderjets bombing the coal mine northwest of Kunu and near the Chongchon river.

The Sabre pilots' victories raised the Fifth Air Force's October bag of MIGs to six destroyed and 12 damaged.

The air force said the Thunderjets left at least five buildings in flames at the coal mine.

Is Unoperational

The Far East Air Force reported today that the big Superfort raid on the sprawling Namsan chemical plant in North Korea, Oct. 1, ended it "completely unoperational."

Forty-eight B-29s hammered the plant on the south bank of the Yalu river—with 425 tons of bombs in a two and one half hour attack.

Air force experts said the power plant and 10 transformers, a calcium cyanide plant and five administration-type buildings were reduced to rubble. The Superfort bombs also destroyed the plants calcium cyanamide production building and knocked out calcium ore electric furnaces.

The Fifth Air Force said six allied warplanes were lost over North Korea during the week ended Friday. A Sabre jet and an Australian Meteor jet fell in air combat. Red anti-aircraft guns shot down a F-84 Thunderjet and a propeller-driven Skyraider. Another Thunderjet and a Sabre were lost to other causes.

Big Neri Hill, a bitterly contested height less than a week ago, was recaptured without a fight Friday but then abandoned.

UN infantrymen returned to the crest today but had to drive off two enemy squads to reach it.

A U. S. Eighth Army staff officer said allied troops still were on the shell-pocked hill late this afternoon.

UN infantrymen recaptured two of four hills seized by Chinese Reds Thursday night. One of the positions, north of Korangpo, was retaken in a bitter night counterattack. The other, south of the truce town of Panmunjom, was regained in three hours of heavy fighting.

But another outpost south of Panmunjom was lost Friday.

About 1,200 Communist troops attacked one hill south of Panmunjom.

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, will go to Troy, the "home of Uncle Sam," for a principal campaign address Wednesday evening, October 22. It was announced today by William L. Pfeiffer, chairman of the New York Republican State Committee.

First City Day Is 575 Above Total

Presidential Year Brings Out 4,149 Persons in All Wards; 1,300 Above 1951

Record Is Seen

Election Board 'Thinks' Turnout Sets Peak in Kingston

One of the heaviest first-day registrations in the history of Kingston was recorded yesterday with 4,149 persons going to the polls.

This was 500 more than those who registered on the first day in the 1948 presidential year and almost 1,300 more than registered last year on the first day.

Last year on the first day a total of 2,859 persons registered and on the first day in 1948 a total of 3,747 were recorded.

In Only 3 Districts

In only three of the city's election districts did registration on the first day in 1948 exceed the number registering yesterday. These same three districts, the 1st district in Ward 5, the 2nd district in Ward 6 and the 1st district in Ward 13, also showed a higher registration on the first day last year than on the first day of this year.

Patrick T. Murphy, a member of the Ulster county board of elections, said today that he believed the registration for the first day might have set an all-time record in the city. No figures were immediately available, however, to make this determination.

Registration on the first day this year exceeded by 575 that on the first day of the presidential year of 1948 when Truman was running against Dewey and was 1,290 higher than the first day of registration last year.

Registration is continuing today with the polls open from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. The polls will also be open Friday and Saturday of next week.

Last year a total of 14,202 persons registered to vote and in 1948 a total of 14,993. Registration is usually higher in a presidential election year.

Registration by Districts

Registration by districts on the first day this year was as follows: Ward 1, 1st district, 366; Ward 2, 1st district, 288; Ward 2, 2nd district, 454; Ward 3, 1st district, 154; Ward 3, 2nd district, 264; Ward 4, 1st district, 110; Ward 4, 2nd district, 111; Ward 5, 1st district, 105; Ward 6, 1st district, 81; Ward 6, 2nd district, 65; Ward 7, 1st district, 98; Ward 7, 2nd district, 97; Ward 8, 1st district, 205; Ward 9, 1st district, 232; Ward 10, 1st district, 212; Ward 10, 2nd district, 121; Ward 11, 1st district, 390; Ward 12, 1st district, 438; Ward 12, 2nd district, 309; Ward 13, 1st district, 49.

1951 Figures

On the first day of last year registration was as follows: Ward 1, 1st district, 221; Ward 2, 1st district, 219; Ward 2, 2nd district, 251; Ward 3, 1st district, 102; Ward 3, 2nd district, 178; Ward 4, 1st district, 76; Ward 4, 2nd district, 89; Ward 5, 1st district, 118; Ward 6, 1st district, 63; Ward 6, 2nd district, 79; Ward 7, 1st district, 74; Ward 7, 2nd district, 74; Ward 8, 1st district, 146; Ward 9, 1st district, 137; Ward 10, 1st district, 165; Ward 10, 2nd district, 93; Ward 11, 1st district, 219; Ward 12, 1st district, 318; Ward 12, 2nd district, 176; Ward 13, 1st district, 61.

'52—Nothing to Say

Eugene, Ore., Oct. 4 (AP)—Four years ago, campaigning President Truman told a train whistle-stop audience here: "I like Old Joe (Stalin), but he is a prisoner of the Politburo."

Yesterday when his train passed through here in the post-midnight hours, the President was asleep. A question was relayed to him later through a press secretary as to whether he still liked "Old Joe."

"No comment," was the relayed reply.

Eisenhower Calls Attitude
'Criminal Folly'—His Campaign Moves
Westward

By DON WHITEHEAD
Aboard the Eisenhower Special, Oct. 3 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower moved his presidential campaign westward today, leaving in his trail a scalding indictment of an administration he said was "confused by the opiate" of Communist deceit.

Speaking in the 14,000-seat Milwaukee arena last night—to a house that was about two-thirds full—the GOP presidential nominee described efforts to minimize the Communist infiltration into government as "criminal folly."

And then he asserted—at least by implication—that President Truman and Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson had tried to dismiss the Communists in government problem lightly.

"We have all had enough," Eisenhower said, "of those who have sneered at the warnings of men trying to drive Communists from high places—but who never had the sense or the stamina to take after the Communists themselves."

Supports McCarthy
With this speech, Eisenhower supported the position of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin that disloyalty and subversion still are grave threats to the nation's security. Then he headed for Minnesota and North Dakota.

McCarthy spoke to the crowd shortly before Eisenhower began his speech—and touched off a roar of cheering, punctuated by some boos.

He asserted: "As long as I represent the people of Wisconsin I will call them as I see them—no matter who happens to be president."

He called Eisenhower a man who would "make a great president—an outstanding president." He said with a grin, he had talked with the GOP candidate but "I can't report we agree entirely on everything." The crowd laughed.

He went on to attack the administration which he said "believes in a war prosperity."

"I Can't Be Done"
Then talking of this prosperity and the casualties in Korea, he said: "How can you separate the jobs from the bodies? It can't be done."

McCarthy was interrupted at one point by boos and then a fight broke out between two youths in the rear of the arena.

"I don't let a few trouble makers bother me," McCarthy (Continued on Page 10, Col. 6)

Albany, Oct. 4 (AP)—Upstate voters are registering early and in record-threatening numbers for the Nov. 4 presidential election.

At the close of the first day of personal registration last night, unofficial figures showed big gains in almost all cities over the number who signed up first for the Truman-Dewey election in 1948.

Buffalo, the state's second largest city, had a turnout of 74,335, just shy of the first-day record of 75,594 set in 1944. The figure was far ahead of 45,898 registered in 1948.

Rochester Has Record
In Rochester, the first-day record was smashed by a turnout of 53,864. The comparable figure in 1948 was 34,493. The 1944 turnout totaled 41,358.

Troy reported a new high of 10,137 as against the previous record of 7,459 set in 1948.

Albany's 25,891 represented a gain of 2,965 over 1948.

At Elmira, 7,395 signed up, compared with the previous first-day high of 6,493 in 1944.

Utica, with nine of 80 districts not reported, counted 11,654 compared with 8,585 in 1948.

No Nassau Totals
No figures were released in Nassau county, where registration dates coincide with upstate areas, but elections commissioner William Meissner said the total might hit an unprecedented 400,000.

MOST CITIES—2 Gloverville set what was believed to be a first-day record when 3,765 persons signed up. The 1948 kickoff figure was 2,473.

Other first-day totals with 1948 figures in brackets included: Cohoes—3,168 (2,744), a new record.

Oneonta—1,928 (1,048). Watervliet—2,051 (1,800). Rensselaer—1,571 (1,244).

Over 5,000 Must Sign
Residents of all communities of 5,000 or more must register personally to be eligible to vote.

Yesterday was the first regular registration date for all the state except New York city and Westchester county. The registration centers were open again today from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. next week, registration hours will be from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Friday and from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturday, closing day.

For New York city and Westchester county, registration begins Monday and will continue daily through Saturday. Hours are 5 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 7 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 11.

For Rural Communities
Non-personal registration in rural areas and smaller communities will be from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. today and from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. Oct. 11.

There have been forecasts that (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Adlai in Ohio CitiesTells Farmers in Iowa
GOP Is No Good for Nation's Farmers

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Oct. 4 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson stacked the Democratic farm record today alongside what he said is a GOP "record of obstruction" and told the nation's farmers:

"You'd better be careful what you do on Election Day."

The Democratic presidential nominee picked this town in the heart of the corn belt for his second major farm speech of the campaign—a speech that laid down new Democratic promises to the people who till the land.

Hits Farm 'Record'
Instead, Stevenson cracked down on the Republican farm record and his Republican rival, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I don't believe," he said in his prepared text, "America will entrust its future to the masters of a house divided against itself on foreign policy, on domestic policy and perhaps most of all on farm policy."

The Illinois governor pounded at Eisenhower as having admitted being "at sea" on farm problems and then taking bad advice on them.

He said in effect that the GOP has no farm policy of its own—only a copy of the Democratic platform. But it does have, he said, a "me-too" candidate running on a "yes-but" staff.

Mid-Day Stop

Fort Dodge was a mid-day speaking stop between major campaign addresses last night at Columbus, Ohio, and tonight at St. Paul, Minn. Twenty-five electoral votes are at stake in Ohio. And Stevenson was political prowling for 10 more in Iowa and 11 in Minnesota.

Stevenson spent Friday on his first campaign swing into Ohio. He devoted the day to ripping into (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Two Men Await Grand Jury;
Stole Poughkeepsian's Watch

Two men accused of robbing a Poughkeepsian man of his wristwatch on Sept. 13 are awaiting Ulster county grand jury action on first degree robbery charges as the result of an investigation in which four police agencies co-operated.

Robert Edward Goewey, 24, of Athol, Mass., was arrested there Thursday by Athol police at the teletype request of the Ulster county sheriff's department. Goewey waived extradition and was returned to this county by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff Chester A. Wolven.

His brother-in-law, Walter Leon Morrill, 38, of Staatsburg had been arrested in that Dutchess county village on Tuesday and returned here by Brown and William Churchill, assistant investigator. Both men were arraigned before (Continued on Page 10, Col. 5)

Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen, waived examination and were ordered held for grand jury.

Brown reported the arrests followed nearly three weeks of following up the slimmest of leads after Stanley Jenks of Poughkeepsie reported that two men assaulted him early the morning of Sept. 13 near Highland and took his brand new wrist watch. He was unable to furnish the names or complete description of the men.

The Dutchess county sheriff's office and the Poughkeepsie police department assigned men to work on the case with the Ulster county sheriff's office.

The watch had been sold to a Poughkeepsie man and has been recovered by a Poughkeepsie police department detective, Brown reported.

Election Board 'Thinks'
Turnout Sets Peak in Kingston

One of the heaviest first-day registrations in the history of Kingston was recorded yesterday with 4,149 persons going to the polls.

This was 500 more than those who registered on the first day in the 1948 presidential year and almost 1,300 more than registered last year on the first day.

Last year on the first day a total of 2,859 persons registered and on the first day in 1948 a total of 3,574 were recorded.

In Only 3 Districts
In only three of the city's election districts did registration on the first day in 1948 exceed the number registering yesterday.

These same three districts, the 1st district in Ward 5, the 2nd district in Ward 6 and the 1st district in Ward 13, also showed a higher registration on the first day last year than on the first day of this year.

Patrick T. Murphy, a member of the Ulster county board of elections, said today that he believed the registration for the first day might have set an all-time record in the city. No figures were immediately available, however, to make this determination.

Registration on the first day this year exceeded by 575 that on the first day of the presidential year of 1948 when Truman was running against Dewey and was 1,290 higher than the first day of registration last year.

Registration is continuing today with the polls open from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. The polls will also be open Friday and Saturday of next week.

Last year a total of 14,202 persons registered to vote and in 1948 a total of 14,993. Registration is usually higher in a presidential election year.

Registration by Districts

Registration by districts on the first day this year was as follows: Ward 1, 1st district, 366; Ward 2, 1st district, 288; Ward 2, 2nd district, 454; Ward 3, 1st district, 154; Ward 3, 2nd district, 264; Ward 4, 1st district, 110; Ward 4, 2nd district, 111; Ward 5, 1st district, 105; Ward 6, 1st district, 81; Ward 6, 2nd district, 65; Ward 7, 1st district, 98; Ward 7, 2nd district, 97; Ward 8, 1st district, 205; Ward 9, 1st district, 232; Ward 10, 1st district, 212; Ward 10, 2nd district, 121; Ward 11, 1st district, 390; Ward 12, 1st district, 438; Ward 12, 2nd district, 309; Ward 13, 1st district, 49.

1951 Figures

On the first day of last year registration was as follows: Ward 1, 1st district, 221; Ward 2, 1st district, 219; Ward 2, 2nd district, 251; Ward 3, 1st district, 102; Ward 3, 2nd district, 178; Ward 4, 1st district, 76; Ward 4, 2nd district, 89; Ward 5, 1st district, 100; Ward 6, 1st district, 63; Ward 6, 2nd district, 79; Ward 7, 1st district, 74; Ward 7, 2nd district, 74; Ward 8, 1st district, 146; Ward 9, 1st district, 137; Ward 10, 1st district, 165; Ward 10, 2nd district, 93; Ward 11, 1st district, 219; Ward 12, 1st district, 318; Ward 12, 2nd district, 176; Ward 13, 1st district, 61.

Esopus Monastery Fetes President Msgr. M. A. Gearin

The Redemptorist Monastery at Esopus played host Tuesday to visitors from many parts of the United States and Canada. The occasion was the golden jubilee of religious profession of the president and rector of Mt. St. Alphonsus, the Very Rev. Michael A. Gearin. At 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning he celebrated solemn Mass in the presence of Bishop Stephen Donohue, representing Cardinal Spellman. The seminary chapel was thronged with clergy, personal friends and relatives of the jubilarian. Orator of the day was the Rev. John Renehan, former procurator of the Redemptorists, and at present attached to the shrine-church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Boston, Mass. A half century ago, on August 2, 1902, Father Gearin pronounced the three vows of poverty, chastity and obedience as a Redemptorist at Annapolis, Md. He was degree of Doctor of Canon Law, and soon after joined the faculty at Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus. For 12 years he held the chair of canon law, and at the same time acted as pastor at Presentation parish Port Jervis, where he is still affectionately remembered.

Between the times of his departure in 1924, from Esopus and his return as its present rector, in 1950, Father Gearin held many important posts in the Redemptorist Province of the Eastern United States. He was superior of the Mission headquarters at Ephrata, Penna., rector of the Mission Church in Boston, Mass., consulted to the Provincial, and from 1943 to 1947 he was Provincial.

Honored by Students. Monday he celebrated his 71st birthday, and Tuesday his 70th year as a Redemptorist. For his birthday the students and faculty of Mt. St. Alphonsus honored him with an intra-mural celebration, featuring the musical, "The Student Prince of Heidelberg." Some hundred priests were guests at the operetta, and for the solemn Mass Tuesday many more arrived.

A special jubilee banquet was served at noon in the monastery dining hall for some 200 clergy. Among those present was Bishop Stephen Donohue, representing Francis Cardinal Spellman at the celebration. Bishop William T. McCarty, C.S.S.R., former rector of Mt. St. Alphonsus, now incumbent of the See of Rapid City, S. D., the Very Rev. John Septon, C.S.S.R., provincial of the Redemptorists together with his staff, the Rt. Rev. Stephen P. Connelly, the Rt. Rev. Martin J. Drury, the Rt. Rev. Michael O'Shea, the Rt. Rev. John Stanley, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Quinn, the Rt. Rev. Patrick Kinsella, and most of the clergy of Ulster county. Redemptorists came from Canada, St. Louis, Mo., Richmond, Va., Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo, Boston, Lima, Rochester and Pittsburgh.

Will Honor Former Pastor

This is the parish memorial which will be dedicated Sunday morning in memory of the late Rev. Frank B. Seeley, DD, former pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church. The dedication will take place immediately following the regular service. Inscribed on the monument is the following: In Memoriam, Frank Barrows Seeley, D.D., pastor, friend, civic leader. One who fought here with the weapons of faith, hope and love. (Freeman photo)

Dedication of New Memorial Set Sunday for Dr. Seeley

On Sunday morning, Oct. 5, after the regular worship service, the congregation of the Fair Street Reformed Church will dedicate its parish memorial to the late Rev. Frank B. Seeley, DD, who for 50 years was pastor of the church.

At the service which will be conducted at the corner of Fair and Pearl street, the Vermont marble memorial will be presented for dedication by Henry D. Eltinge, who, as senior elder of the consistory will represent the congregation. The monument was authorized and its construction supervised by a committee of the elders of the church under the chairmanship of C. E. Burnett, and the work was made possible by the personal contributions of the people of the parish. Imperial Danby marble from the Vermont marble quarries at Proctor has been used in the monument which has been designed and constructed by James P. Byrne, monuments, Ontario Trail.

Contains Rare Type. A section of the memorial which will carry the announcements of the church services and meetings has been designed and built by the Unitype Company of New York and will carry the message by means of aluminum letters set on black broadcloth. This relatively rare type of church announcement panel is used by the Riverside Church in New York. The memorial inscription incorporates in its lines a part of the 13th verse of First Corinthians 13 which was Dr. Seeley's favorite passage in the New Testament Scriptures. In speaking about the dedication of the memorial, the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the church said: "The committee of the consistory and the people of the church hope that this memorial will serve to remind us and passersby of the years of service that Dr. Seeley gave this church not only, but the entire community. The stone of the memorial comes from the part of New England that was dearest to Dr. Seeley in his lifetime. And the function of the memorial in carrying the announcements of the continuing

Renovated Organ To Be Dedicated Sunday at Trinity

During the 11 a. m. service of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, the Rev. Dr. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor, the annual World-Wide Communion Sunday will be observed. In conjunction with this service there will be the dedication of the newly renovated and modernized organ. The work has been done by the Kohl Organ Company, Arthur Kohl, president, of Rochester.

The new console of the organ has been given by Mrs. Harriet Peck in loving memory of her late husband, Howard C. Peck. This work is part of the 110th anniversary celebration of Trinity Church this year. Oscar J. Lawatsch, president of the congregation, has congratulated the people of the parish upon their generous over-subscription to the 110th anniversary appeal. This appeal was inspired by the legacy from the estate of the late Christina Koch.

The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Gollnick, will deliver a special sermon on the theme, "I Will Remember Thee and also conduct the act of dedication.

Mrs. Willard Burke, choir director, and Miss Lucinda Merritt, church organist, have arranged the following music: Prelude Andante Cantabile, Widor; anthem, We Follow Thee, Sullivan; offertory, Prayer, Salome; postlude, Marziale, Foster.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Esopus Monastery Fetes President Msgr. M. A. Gearin

The Redemptorist Monastery at Esopus played host Tuesday to visitors from many parts of the United States and Canada. The occasion was the golden jubilee of religious profession of the president and rector of Mt. St. Alphonsus, the Very Rev. Michael A. Gearin. At 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning he celebrated solemn Mass in the presence of Bishop Stephen Donohue, representing Cardinal Spellman. The seminary chapel was thronged with clergy, personal friends and relatives of the jubilarian. Orator of the day was the Rev. John Ranehan, former procurator of the Redemptorists, and at present attached to the shrine-church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Boston, Mass.

A half century ago, on August 2, 1902, Father Gearin pronounced the three vows of poverty, chastity and obedience as a Redemptorist at Annapolis, Md. He was 21 at the time. Of his class two others survive, the Rev. John Huebert of Baltimore, Md. and the Rev. George Bielein, recently pastor of Sacred Heart parish, Esopus.

To Esopus in 1907
Born in what is now Greenwich Village, New York city on September 30, 1881, Father Gearin, after graduating from grammar school commenced his higher studies at the Redemptorist Preparatory College at North East, Penna. After his ordination at Ilchester, Md., on June 14, 1907, he came to Esopus to complete his final year. He was among the first group to occupy the new seminary completed in 1907. After two years overseas at the Apollinare University in Rome, Italy, he won the degree of Doctor of Canon Law, and soon after joined the faculty at Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus. For 12 years he held the chair of canon law, and at the same time acted as pastor at Presentation parish, Port Jervis, where he is still affectionately remembered.

Between the time of his departure, in 1924, from Esopus and his return as its present rector, in 1950, Father Gearin held many important posts in the Redemptorist Province of the Eastern United States. He was superior of the Mission headquarters at Ephrata, Penna., rector of the Mission Church in Boston, Mass., consultant to the Provincial, and from 1943 to 1947 he was Provincial.

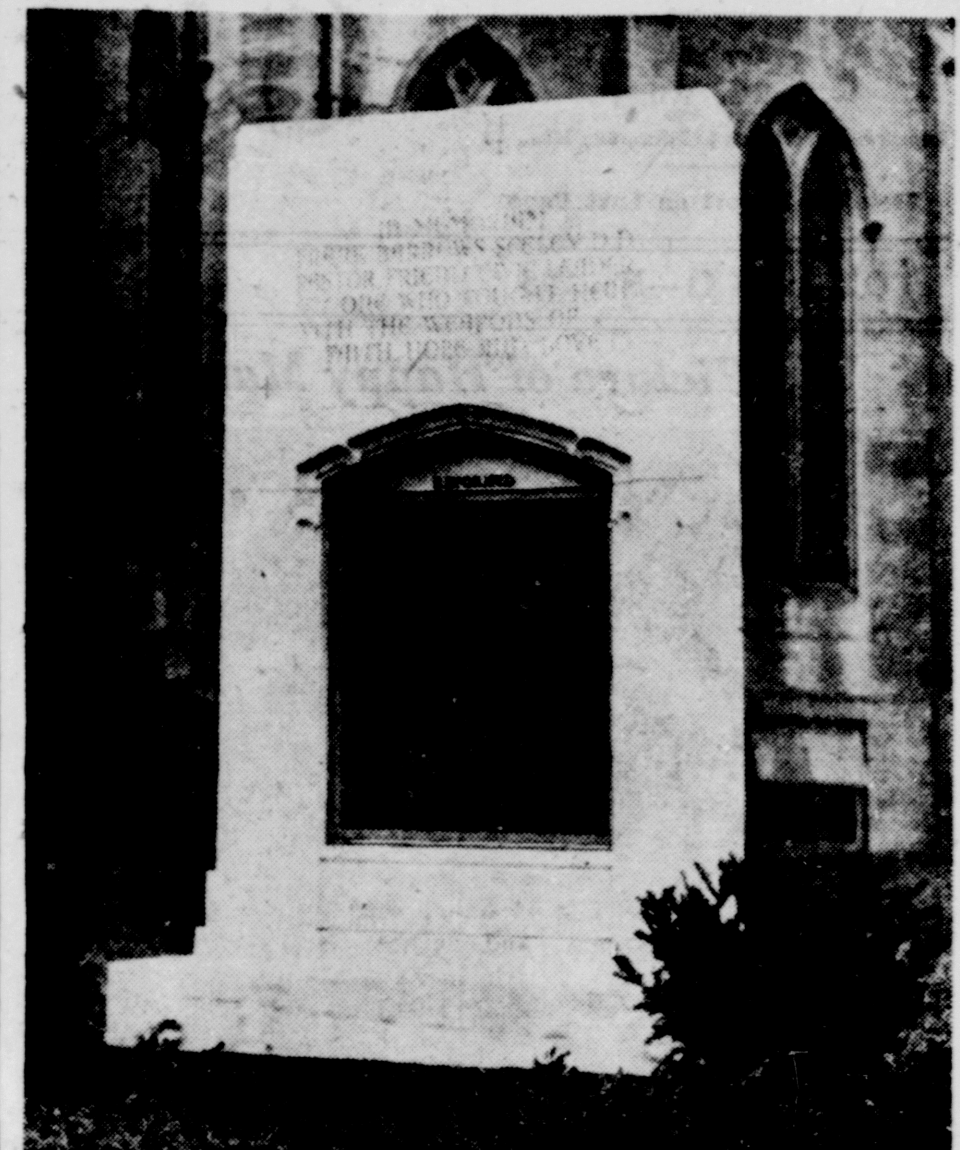

Honored by Students
Monday he celebrated his 71st birthday, and Tuesday his 50th year as a Redemptorist. For his birthday the students and faculty of Mt. St. Alphonsus honored him with an intra-mural celebration, featuring the musical, The Student Prince of Heidelberg. Some hundred priests were guests at the operetta, and for the solemn Mass Tuesday many more arrived.

A special jubilee banquet was served at noon in the monastery dining hall for some 200 clergy. Among those present was Bishop Stephen Donohue, representing Francis Cardinal Spellman at the celebration. Bishop William T. McCarty, C.Ss.R., former rector of Mt. St. Alphonsus, now incumbent of the See of Rapid City, S. D., the Very Rev. John Septon, C.Ss.R., provincial of the Redemptorists together with his staff, the Rt. Rev. Stephen P. Connelly, the Rt. Rev. Martin J. Drury, the Rt. Rev. Michael O'Shea, the Rt. Rev. John Stanley, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Quinn, the Rt. Rev. Patrick Kinsella, and most of the clergy of Ulster county. Redemptorists came from Canada, St. Louis, Mo., Richmond, Va., Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo, Boston, Lima, Rochester and Pittsburgh.

Will Honor Former Pastor

This is the parish memorial which will be dedicated Sunday morning in memory of the late Rev. Frank B. Seeley, DD, former pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church. The dedication will take place immediately following the regular service. Inscribed on the monument is the following: In Memoriam, Frank Barrows Seeley, D.D., pastor, friend, civic leader. One who fought here with the weapons of faith, hope and love. (Freeman photo)

Dedication of New Memorial Set Sunday for Dr. Seeley

On Sunday morning, Oct. 5, after the regular worship service, the congregation of the Fair Street Reformed Church will dedicate its parish memorial to the late Rev. Frank B. Seeley, DD, who for 50 years was pastor of the church.

At the service which will be conducted at the corner of Fair and Pearl street, the Vermont marble memorial will be presented for dedication by Henry D. Eltinge, who, as senior elder of the consistory will represent the congregation.

The monument was authorized and its construction supervised by a committee of the elders of the church under the chairmanship of C. E. Burnett, and the work was made possible by the personal contributions of the people of the parish. Imperial Danby marble from the Vermont marble quarries at Proctor has been used in the monument which has been designed and constructed by James P. Byrne, monuments, Ontario Trail.

Contains Rare Type
A section of the memorial which will carry the annals of the church services and meetings has been designed and built by the Unitive Company of New York and will carry the message by means of aluminum letters set on black broadcloth. This relatively rare type of church announcement panel is used by the Riverside Church in New York City. The memorial inscription incorporated in its lines a part of the 13th verse of First Corinthians 13 which was Dr. Seeley's favorite passage in the New Testament Scriptures.

In speaking about the dedication of the memorial, the Rev. J. D. Dykstra, pastor of the church said: "The committee of the consistory and the people of the church hope that this memorial will serve to remind us and passersby of the years of service that Dr. Seeley gave this church not only, but the entire community. The stone of the memorial comes from the part of New England that was dearest to Dr. Seeley in his lifetime. And the function of the memorial in carrying the announcements of the continuing

During the 11 a. m. service of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, the Rev. Dr. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor, the annual World-Wide Communion Sunday will be observed.

In conjunction with this service there will be the dedication of the newly renovated and modernized organ. The work has been done by the Kohl Organ Company, Arthur Kohl, president, of Rochester.

The new console of the organ has been given by Mrs. Harriet Peck in loving memory of her late husband, Edward C. Peck. This work is part of the 110th anniversary celebration of Trinity Church this year.

Oscar J. Lawatsch, president of the congregation, has congratulated the people of the parish upon their generous over-subscription to the 110th anniversary appeal. This appeal was inspired by the legacy from the estate of the late Christina Koch.

The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Gollnick, will deliver a special sermon on the theme, I Will Remember Thee and also conduct the act of dedication.

Mrs. Willard Burke, choir director, and Miss Lucinda Merritt, church organist, have arranged the following music: Prelude Andante Cantabile, Widor; anthem, We Follow Thee, Sullivan; offertory, Prayer, Salome; postlude, Marziale, Foster.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

About 38,000 sheep were shorn in North Carolina in 1932.

Is Final Speaker At Local Meeting

MRS. H. E. LANG
Mrs. H. E. Lang, field missionary to South China and the Philippine Islands, will preach the closing service of the missionary convention at the Alliance Gospel Church Sunday during the regular worship service at 11 a. m. She also will speak to the Sunday school group at 9:45 a. m.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lang went to South China in 1921 and spent eight years in evangelistic work. They later spent 20 years in itinerant evangelism about the mountain tribes of northwest Kwangsi Province.

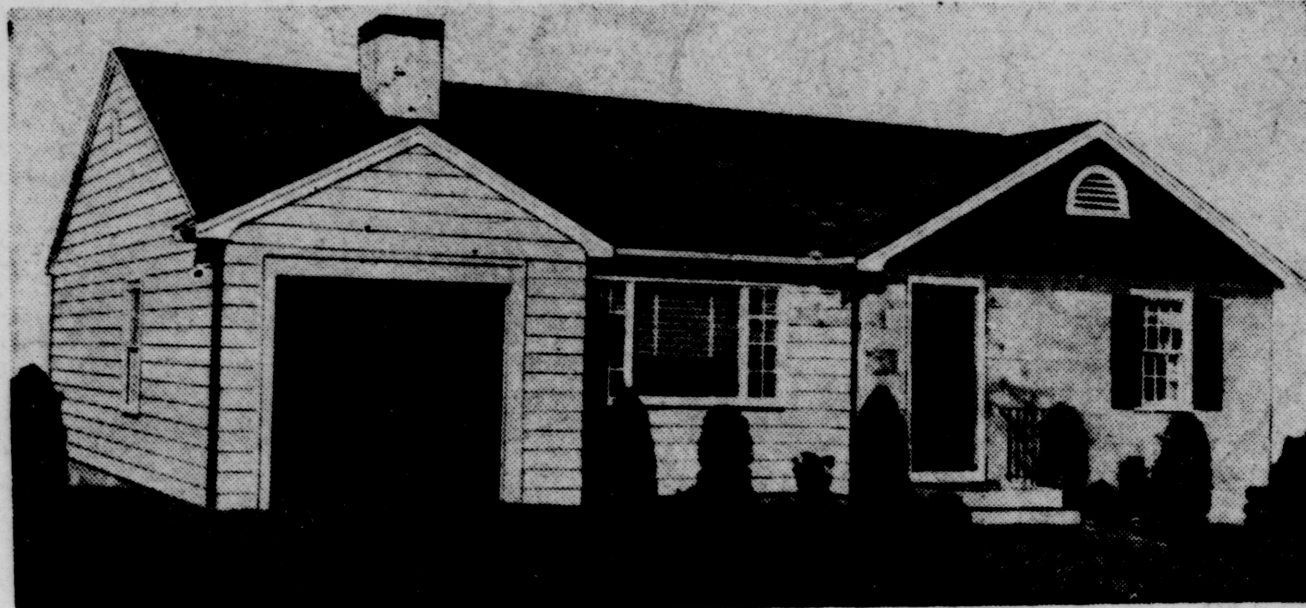

With the Communist occupation of Kwangsi the Langs were transferred to work among the many overseas Chinese, the English-speaking Filipinos and the Moros of the Sulu Archipelago.

Let Kitchen Colors Express Personality

When choosing decorating colors for your kitchen keep these points in mind:
Its colors should be colors you personally like.
They should be correct, too, for the exposure of the room. A kitchen facing north or east gets little or no sunlight—receives cold, blue light. It needs warm friendly colors like reds, oranges and yellows, or variations of these colors such as rose, pink or buff.

A kitchen facing south or west is generally flooded with yellow sunlight. It needs cool, soothing colors to offset this warmth and brilliance. Blues, violets and greens help to do this.
Regardless of whether a room requires warm or cool colors, the dominant color of the room's decor must be tempered by touches of contrasting colors.

THE POULTNEY

A Comfortable Small House

Rooms Five
Bedrooms Two
Closets Six
Cubage 27,200 ft.
Dimensions 47' x 30'

Simple landscaping is essential with this small, homey type of house. The inviting front entry, the large picture window, and multi-colored asphalt roofing all add welcome decorative touches to the exterior appearance of "The Poultnery."

Attractive Interior

Inside, this delightful little home is every bit as attractive as it is outside. The good sized entry hall contains a large coat closet in its back wall. An open archway in the left wall leads to the 17'6" x 13'4" living room.

Most appealing features of the spacious living room are the lovely picture window in the front wall, and the handsome fireplace centered in the left wall. Bookshelves could easily be installed along the unbroken right wall.

Since there is no dining room proper in "The Poultnery," the living room must do double duty. Place your dining room set near to the back wall where it will be most accessible from the kitchen. If you desire, you can have a china closet built into the left back corner of the room; this will make a convenient storage place for your best china and glassware.

Measuring 9'x8', the breakfast nook is a room by itself; it is large enough to serve as the family eating area all day through. Thus, you can save your dining area for more formal occasions.

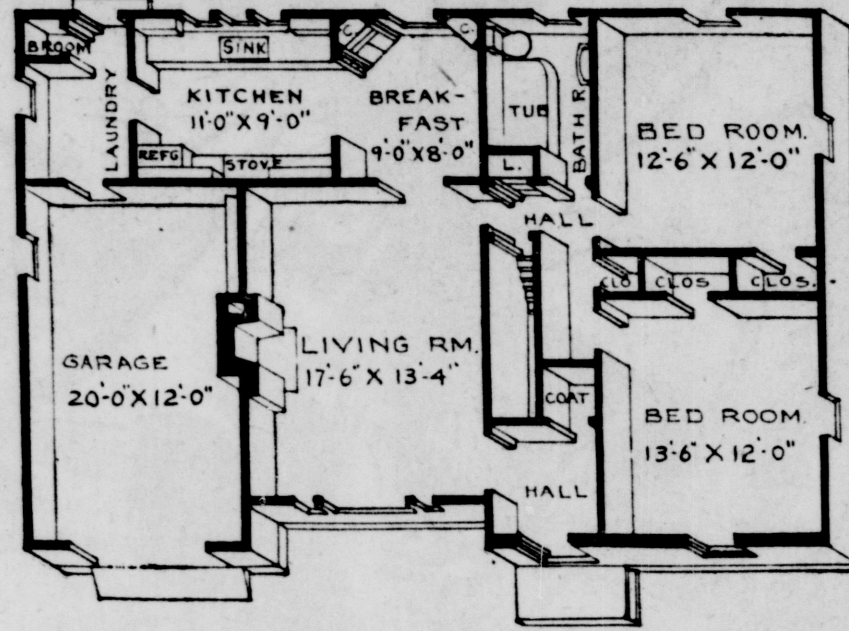

One large window in the back wall brings plenty of light and air into the pleasant breakfast nook. Cabinets in both back corners provide ample storage area for your regular china. Drawers can be built under the cabinet proper to provide extra storage space for fresh table linen, etc.

Opening directly off the breakfast nook, the kitchen is a work center and is planned as such. The housewife is certain to like the position selected for the modern sink; right under the double windows in the back kitchen wall. Working counters, cupboards and cabinets extend along the back to the left and right walls.

More working counters, the stove and the refrigerator occupy the front wall of the 11' x 9' kitchen. In the left wall, the door leads to the first floor laundry. Receiving adequate light and ventilation through one window in the wall, the laundry has doors leading to both the back yard and the garage.

There's plenty of regular and overhead storage space in the 20' by 12' garage. One window, in the left wall, provides ample light and ventilation for this one car garage.

Both bedrooms are located at the right end of "The Poultnery" and, along with the all-modern bath, are connected with the living section of the house by a central hallway. Opening on this hallway, just to the left of the living room door, is a good sized

Indecision by Owner Adds to Home's Cost

The home builder can make the life of the architect less difficult and their association much more pleasant if he will go thoroughly into the details of materials and construction before the building operation is started. Many times the man footing the bills will complain loud and long about "extras" and blame the architect for running up costs on him.

Frequently it is the fault of the man himself. He has gone headlong into a project that he knows little or nothing about. He has approved every suggestion and then proceeds to listen to others, with the result that he has changed his mind. However, specifications, unlike the mind, cannot be changed without cost.

When a man is making as large an investment as the building of a home he should avail himself of the best counsel and decide all details before even breaking ground. If this is done the finished product will not cost more than the anticipated sum.

Extras are not the fault of the builder or architect. They are concrete manifestations of indecision and lack of information.

Why Lights Flicker

Electric lamps often flicker because the prongs on the wall plug are bent out of shape, fit loosely in the socket and make a poor contact. The prongs can be brought back into the correct position with a pair of pliers.

Change Fireplace Color

If your living room fireplace is red brick and the color does not harmonize well with your scheme of decoration, it can be attractively painted with one of the coatings made especially for masonry.

Milk is one of the oldest known foods and records exist of cows being milked in 9000 B. C.

Linseed Oil Elastic

Linseed oil is widely used in the manufacture of exterior paints. As it dries, the oil solidifies and forms an elastic substance on the surface to which it is applied. The quality of elasticity possessed by this substance allows the paint coating to expand and contract with the surface to which it is attached.

Prime Before Putting

Before applying putty or glazing material to unfinished wood sash, always prime the surface. Give the primer—or any paint or preservative coating—time to dry before glazing. Never use a primer such as shellac or varnish that dries to a hard, glossy surface.

Wax Window Sills

In summer, when windows are open most of the time and dust is flying, it is a good idea to wax the sills and trim around the windows. This will make the woodwork easier to clean and prevent sudden showers from staining the finish.

Varnish Rustic Furniture

Rustic furniture can be protected from wood-boring insects by giving it a coat of varnish. It will also help if parts of the furniture that come in contact with the ground are coated with creosote.

There were 627,751 telephones in North Carolina in 1952.

Exterior Work Gives Dwelling Well-Kept Look

Often it is the extremely modest home, trim, well kept and radiating warmth and hospitality, that arouses the interrogation "Isn't that a lovely home?"

It does not take a pretentious mansion to call forth such admiration, for more often than not it is neatness and maintenance that gives the dwelling its appeal.

Frequently a new coat of paint or a new roof will transform a rather drab home into one with a pleasant, inviting atmosphere. Sometimes more is needed—a new porch, a new entrance, dormer windows, a bit of landscaping. If it is a frame house, a brick or stucco veneer or stained shingles may be a better investment.

A check list of things which the home owner could do to modernize the exterior should include: Repair masonry and brickwork, point up masonry, sandblast brickwork, apply transparent waterproofing, make cornices and water tables weathertight, waterproof basement walls, stucco sidewalls, brick veneer the exterior, paint weathering surfaces, replace defective flashing, pressure-gun caulking, install outside drain tile to conduct water away from foundation, install new arcways.

A race horse cannot carry a name that has been used during the past 15 years.

Use Ladder Cautiously

When a painting project calls for the use of a ladder there are certain precautions it's wise to take. In ascending, remember, always, to take hold of the sides—never the rungs. Never straddle and slide down a ladder. When an extension ladder is being raised, be sure to hold on by the sides instead of the rungs. The proper footing for a ladder, while it is being raised, is also important.

Light Colors Really Help

Painting porch and garden furniture in light, cool colors—white, pale blue, green or gray—will not only make it look cooler but it will actually be cooler. Light tints of cool colors do not absorb heat.

In the good sized bathroom, which is lighted and ventilated by one window in its back wall, there is room for both a tub and a shower.

Measuring 12' 6" x 12", the back bedroom reaps the benefits of cross ventilation from one window in the right wall and another in the back wall. The closet in the front wall is large enough to hold the clothing of two people if this bedroom is shared.

If you want a safe storage spot for your precious woolen blankets and your family's fine woollens — a place where they'll be protected from the ravages of moths during the warm weather — convert that closet opening on the connecting hallway between the two bedrooms into a cedar closet.

Designed to serve as a master bedroom, the front bedroom is 13' 6" x 12". This room, too, enjoys the benefits of cross ventilation; it has one window in the right wall and another in the front wall. There is a spacious closet in the back wall.

In the basement of "The Poultnery" the only required installation is the heating plant.

In summer, when windows are open most of the time and dust is flying, it is a good idea to wax the sills and trim around the windows. This will make the woodwork easier to clean and prevent sudden showers from staining the finish.

Varnish Rustic Furniture

Rustic furniture can be protected from wood-boring insects by giving it a coat of varnish. It will also help if parts of the furniture that come in contact with the ground are coated with creosote.

Exterior Work Gives Dwelling Well-Kept Look

Often it is the extremely modest home, trim, well kept and radiating warmth and hospitality, that arouses the interrogation "Isn't that a lovely home?"

It does not take a pretentious mansion to call forth such admiration, for more often than not it is neatness and maintenance that gives the dwelling its appeal.

Frequently a new coat of paint or a new roof will transform a rather drab home into one with a pleasant, inviting atmosphere. Sometimes more is needed—a new porch, a new entrance, dormer windows, a bit of landscaping. If it is a frame house, a brick or stucco veneer or stained shingles may be a better investment.

A check list of things which the home owner could do to modernize the exterior should include: Repair masonry and brickwork, point up masonry, sandblast brickwork, apply transparent waterproofing, make cornices and water tables watertight, waterproof basement walls, stucco sidewalls, brick veneer the exterior, paint weathering surfaces, replace defective flashing, pressure-gun caulking, install outside drain tile to conduct water away from foundation, install new areaways.

A race horse cannot carry a name that has been used during the past 15 years.

Use Ladder Cautiously

When a painting project calls for the use of a ladder there are certain precautions it's wise to take. In ascending, remember, always, to take hold of the sides—never the rungs. Never straddle and slide down a ladder. When an extension ladder is being raised, be sure to hold on by the sides instead of the rungs. The proper footing for a ladder, while it is being raised, is also important.

Light Colors Really Help

Painting porch and garden furniture in light, cool colors—white, pale blue, green or gray—will not only make it look cooler but it will actually be cooler. Light tints of cool colors do not absorb heat.

YOUR NEWSPAPERBOY

Maybe you never really got to know your newspaperboy or maybe he's the kid next door or even your own son. But each day, storm or sunshine, he delivers to your doorstep a copy of your daily paper.

Did you ever stop to picture the empty spot in your own life if there were no welcome thud of a newspaper against your doorstep, no regular visitor with a canvas bag bulging?

Perhaps your newspaperboy trips over his heels once in a while for he's a typical boy with boyish failings. But he's trying his best to do his job the best way he knows how and he's playing a big, too often unsung role in your daily life. He's ambitious, he has initiative, he's a real go-getter or he wouldn't be a newspaperboy. And he is learning invaluable lessons in the art of making friends and the workings of our American way of life—lessons that will come back time and again in the years ahead.

We are happy to take this opportunity during the observance of National Newspaper Week to salute The Freeman carrier boys.

VIVISECTION NEWS

A victory in the effort for freedom of research was recorded at White Plains, N. Y., this week when a suit filed in the Supreme Court of New York State was held to be "insufficient" by Justice Samuel Eager. It was an attempt to defeat the New York state law which allows stray animals, picked up and impounded, to be turned over to laboratories for experimental purposes.

For a long time there has been an active anti-vivisectionist movement in the United States. Little by little, here and there, it has impeded medical science and has possibly been responsible for loss of human lives. Unless science can experiment on animals there is no way to determine the action of many drugs and methods on diseases.

The Judge recognized the property rights of pet owners in the New York case. "But," he qualified, "property rights of an owner are subject to the police power of a state and reasonable demands of a civilized society." He further defined the law as "a much-needed statute to aid the advancement of medical science for the well-being of all."

One point not always understood by the antis is that the strays, left to themselves, are slated to die miserably after suffering. In the laboratory they receive humane treatment and care. They do not suffer.

A scientist says that it will be ten years before there will be any trips made to the moon. That is not far off when it is remembered that it has already been twenty-four years since a Republican candidate made a trip to the White House.

Over a story commenting on the election campaign The New York Times ran the headline "Stakes Are Costly in Play for Texas." The Times might have added that stakes are costly in earnest in all parts of the country.

BAD LOSERS

A sting of defeat in the Olympic Games did not set well with the Russians and Soviet newspapers are still berating the showing their athletes made in Helsinki. Most sports writers from other countries who attended the games thought the Russians gave a good account of themselves. Russian newspapers, however, blame their countrymen for not training hard enough and not taking the competition seriously.

In seventeen out of thirty-three track and field events Russian athletes finished in first, second or third place. When it is remembered that the world's best amateur competitors are sent to the Olympic games it is hard to see how such a showing could displease anyone.

The United States finished first in the games in total number of points and the American team gathered up a good many more first place medals than the Russians. This is probably the bitterest pill the Reds have to swallow after all their propaganda

'These Days'

MARKISM AND RELIGION

As the years pass, it grows increasingly difficult to understand how some clergymen of various religions uphold Communism and support Soviet Russia's program of world imperialism. The Red Dean of Canterbury is not an outstanding exception. Every list of sponsors of Communist activities in the United States includes Protestant clergymen and Jewish rabbis, who apparently do not relate the purposes of the Marxists with their own beliefs.

The Marxist attitude toward religion was recently stated in Soviet Russia by P. F. Kolonitsky, under the auspices of the "Society for the Dissemination of Scientific and Political Knowledge." Kolonitsky is important enough for his lecture to have been circulated as a brochure.

He said (I am quoting from a condensed version):

"... The Communist ethic is the exact opposite of the religious ethic. They are as incompatible as freedom and slavery, truth and falsehood, light and dark. Communism is the great banner of the struggle for the liberation of the working class, the working people, from slavery and exploitation; religion constitutes an ideology for justifying and preserving slavery and exploitation."

"In contrast to the Communist ethic, the religious ethic is an exploiters' ethic. Its precepts are designed to preserve all forms of oppression and exploitation—slaveholding, feudal or bourgeois. Each new ruling class of exploiters adapts religion and its ethic to buttress its rule, but the essence remains the same—the preservation of exploitation, justification in God's name of the ruling classes' dominion over the working people, preaching submission and resignation among the working people."

This is what is being taught in every Communist country, in keeping with Karl Marx's materialistic concepts. There is no God; there is only the eternal struggle between class and class, between the exploiter and the exploited. There is no morality; there is only the struggle between man and his environment. This they believe to be true and with this concept they will not compromise. Therefore those clergymen in our own country who support Marxism are supporting the enemies of God.

Kolonitsky says: "Religion persistently fills believers with the idea that people can accomplish nothing without God's will, that their whole fate is in God's hands. Man is only a creature of God, a worm, a slave of God. . . . It is clear that such an ethic is capable only of extinguishing every will to struggle in man, of killing any impulse to action, of poisoning his soul with the venom of disbelief in his own powers. Furthermore, religion preaches renunciation of earthly good, considers earthly life transitory and worthless."

"Particularly indicative in this respect is the cult of the sufferings of Christ. . . . He is always presented as a model for Christians. 'Christ suffered and bade us to suffer'—this is the most important maxim of Christian ethics."

Not a word is said in this article of the doctrine of love, of pity, of charity. Nothing is said of the effects upon man's mind and conscience of the Ten Commandments, of the beatitudes, of the whole tradition of natural law. It would seem that this is not only a materialistic, atheistic response to Judaeo-Christian beliefs, but also it would seem to indicate that this Master of Philosophy has no knowledge of Christianity except perhaps in its most degradingly ritualistic form.

I wonder what American clergymen and the Red Dean have to say about this:

"Under our conditions religious superstition represents not only religious people's extremely backward notions about the surrounding world, but also vestiges of bourgeois ideology, particularly the bourgeois ethic. Therefore religious superstition is overcome not only through enlightenment, not only through dissemination of knowledge, but through Communist education as a whole. And Communist education, as is known, is a considerably broader idea than simply classroom education."

It is important to know what the Communists believe and say in their own country. American apologists for them try to give the impression that they are actually not what they seem to be. It is like the State Department trying to tell us that the Chinese Communists were not Communists at all, but agrarian reformers; that is, until they began to murder our sons in Korea and our missionaries in China.

It is to our advantage to understand that they are not only the enemies of our country but that they abhor our civilization. And what they hate most in our civilization is God.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

NECESSARY HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

As stated before, the subject of most interest to men and women is their health and the most discussed single subject about health and body is blood pressure, particularly high blood pressure—hypertension; 'hyper' means above and 'hypo' means below.

That this interest in high blood pressure is only natural is due to the fact that hypertension 'occurs' in approximately half the people over fifty years of age and contributes directly or indirectly to at least twenty-five per cent of their deaths."

The commonest forms in which disability and death occur from hypertension is heart strokes (coronary thrombosis) and brain strokes (apoplexy).

In his book, "Essential Hypertension," Dr. Richard F. Herndon, of Springfield, Illinois, states that blood pressure may be defined as the lateral pressure exerted on the walls of the blood-vessel by the blood the vessels contain. Blood pressure is the product of the volume of the blood, its viscosity or consistency, the amount of blood pumped out by the heart, and the resistance of the tiny blood-vessels at the end of the arteries (capillaries) and the veins carrying blood back to the heart.

In the normal individual, blood volume and its viscosity are kept quite constant through fluid interchange between plasma (the fluid part of the blood which carries the little blood cells or corpuscles to all parts of the body) and tissue spaces, the secretion (manufacture) of urine, and the reservoir function or action of the spleen with its blood-making apparatus. Thus, under ordinary circumstances, the maintenance of blood pressure depends upon the adjustment of the heart output of blood and the size of the blood-vessel line which vary according to circumstances to the volume of blood which is always the same in amount.

If this relationship between the volume of blood and the walls of the blood-vessels is changed so that the volume of blood meets more than normal resistance in the blood-vessels or capillaries (tiny blood vessels between arteries and veins), more power behind the blood stream is necessary to pump past or through this resistance and thus we have high blood pressure (hypertension).

"Despite countless investigations and the considerable number of facts that have been revealed, the riddle of essential hypertension remains unsolved." However, one fact seems to be definitely established is that in the majority of cases, hypertension is an inherited constitutional predisposition. Knowing this, is a safeguard.

Dr. Herndon states that in hypertension (as in many other conditions) it is the patient rather than the malady that requires attention. "The relief of apprehension and fear is particularly important."

Fun Along the Campaign Highway

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—The Joint Chiefs of Staff have given careful consideration to some plan by which they could end the long-drawn-out Korean stalemate. They fear that if the war drags on for another winter, the American public will become so apathetic that the Defense Department will be in an untenable position.

As a solution, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air chief of staff, has been urging that American ground troops be pulled out of Korea altogether, and the ground war be turned over to American-trained South Koreans. The United Nations, he advises, could provide air support and supply equipment.

Vandenberg argues this will leave the Chinese as the only foreigners in Korea and tend to unite the Koreans against the Chinese. Now, on the other hand, there is considerable Korean feeling against Americans.

Vandenberg also believes Korea might be protected through a public ultimatum by the United Nations that if Chinese aggression is renewed against South Korea, the Chinese mainland would be attacked by air and the Chinese coast would be blockaded by the navy.

However, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, does not agree with Vandenberg. Neither does Gen. Joe Collins, army chief of staff, or to a lesser degree Adm. W. F. Fechteler. They argue that ground troops must remain in Korea until prisoners of war are exchanged.

Thousands of Americans in Communist P.O.W. camps, they say, must not be deserted.

At present, the only obstacle remaining in the truce talks is the exchange of prisoners and the Chinese seem to have no intention of settling it. However, General Bradley argues that as long as the talks continue, there is hope, and he is adamant that American boys in prison camps must not be left there.

There has been some discussion inside the Defense Department over forcing the Communist hand by blockading the Chinese coast. The navy is all set to carry out this assignment, but the trouble is with our United Nations allies. They are dead set against it. Great Britain is especially adamant on the ground that a blockade might cause her to lose Hong Kong.

Defense Speed-Up — Henry

Fowler, chief of the whole mobilization program, will soon announce that America now has enough new factories and machine tools to permit a big speed-up in mobilization. Fowler will say that because of these new factories we can reach our defense goals by 1954—the year of greatest danger from the Russians.

Hitherto we weren't expecting to be ready until 1955—one year after the period of greatest danger.

But Fowler will say that if the administration and the Congress are willing to give the green light and spend the money, the United States will be prepared to meet any Russian threat.

Dewey and Nixon — Though Governor Dewey is carefully staying in the background so Eisenhower won't be tagged a Dewey man, he keeps in close touch with the general by long-distance phone. Dewey was so worried over the Nixon furor that he asked friends across the country to wire their immediate reaction to Nixon's broadcast. (Dewey was among those who recommended Nixon for veep.)

Pravda's bitter attack on U. S. Ambassador George Kennan is the beginning of a campaign to force him out of Russia. The Kremlin knows that Kennan understands Russia all too well, and wants his brilliant reports to the State Department stopped at any cost.

The navy's television-guided robot planes aren't the only guided missiles being tested in Korea. The army also is experimenting with a top-secret guided missile under battle conditions, while the air force is training two guided-missile squadrons for Korea after the first of the year.

The Russians have started building long-range bomber bases along the ice-bound Arctic shore of northern Siberia. This is just a short hop across the North Pole from Canada, and within easy range of Seattle, Detroit and Chicago. The Russians have also started making daily weather flights across the North Pole.

The government will pay out more than $20,000,000 in crop insurance to farmers who lost crops during the summer drought.

Following the first deluge of mail on Nixon, the Republican National Committee is getting a lot of "morning-after" letters. Quite a few letter-writers were carried away by the first impact of the emotional broadcast. But now they want to know exactly where he got the $20,000 down-payment for his house. . . . A survey of Nixon sentiment shows that the women are a lot stronger for him than the men. . . . Truman is really sore at Ike. He has the father-son complex of the man who educated his son in the best schools and then found him marrying the daughter of his worst enemy. Originally Truman thought that even if Ike ran as a Republican, foreign policy would not be an issue and the country would be on an even keel. Now he has changed his mind. . . . To Talk Sunday At Youth Rally

DR. GEORGE HARLEY

Dr. George W. Harley, medical missionary of the Methodist Church in Liberia, Africa, who is known as the Good Witch of Ganta, will be guest speaker at a Methodist Youth Rally in Trinity Methodist Church Sunday afternoon and evening. Dr. Harley and his wife were pioneer missionaries at the interior village when they arrived in 1925. Since that time they have carved "out of the bush" one of the most progressive mission stations of the church.

Dr. Harley opened his medical practice on the screened porch of a mud hut by asking each of his patients to provide one chicken in payment of services, which would entitle the patient to medical care for two years. Today at least 50,000 natives in a 100-mile radius of his clinic have this type of paid-up health insurance.

In addition to his medical work, Dr. Harley has developed a tile and brick factory, and a sawmill, and has taught Africans how to use them. They in turn helped to expand the mission station to include a hospital, school, blacksmith shop, and other buildings on the 320-acre site.

When the mission dispensary ran out of chaulmoogra oil used in the treatment of Hansen's disease, Dr. Harley found a substitute through experiments with native products of yam. By cross-breeding a goat he had imported from England and another he had brought from the Canary Islands with native goats, he found a species that gives twice as much milk.

Kingstonians Get Revised Bibles

Five citizens of Kingston, representative of five fields of Christian endeavor, were presented with copies of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible Tuesday night at the community meeting held at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church in observance of the national release of the new version of the Bible. These citizens, all leaders in the Christian endeavor in the community, were honored as representatives of the five groups rather than as individuals.

The celebration was sponsored by the Kingston Ministerial Association, representing approximately 60 Protestant churches of Kingston and Ulster county, and was a part of a nation-wide celebration of the new Bible. Those who were selected as representatives of the five groups had been selected by a committee to receive the new editions of the Bible. The presentation was symbolic of the work done among the five groups.

From Different Fields

Those who were honored were Miss Ethel Hull, First Baptist Church, superintendent, representative of the religious education group; Arthur J. Laidlaw, First Reformed Church of Kingston, representative of the secular education group; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, representing the political life group; George V. Dennis, of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council of Boy Scouts, who represented the work among youth group. Dennis was unable to attend and the Bible was accepted on behalf of his group by Mrs. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Baltz, Jr., of the First Presbyterian Church, of which he is superintendent, representing the Christian home group.

Similar services were held in 3,100 communities throughout the country.

Dutch Church Will Display Historical Records on Sunday

Historical documents which were removed from the copper box from the cornerstone of the First Dutch Church last week will be displayed during the regular 10:50 a. m. worship service Sunday.

The articles were removed a week ago in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the local church. Originally, the articles were to be used last Sunday during the re-dedication service but due to the conditions of the articles, it was decided to hold the items until tomorrow's service.

Plans are now underway to preserve the contents of the cornerstone in the museum of the church in a week or two and to relay the cornerstone filled with documents pertaining to the centennial of the church and the tercentenary of Kingston.

Will Add New Items
New items to be added include a copy of The Kingston Daily Freeman, other newspapers and a copy of the new Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible.

Contents taken from the cornerstone last week which will be on display Sunday include the following, according to the historical address given by the Rev. John Ramsey Van Slyke, D.D., on the occasion of the 50th anniversary Sept. 28, 1902:

YOUR NEWSPAPERBOY

Maybe you never really got to know your newspaperboy or maybe he's the kid next door or even your own son. But each day, storm or sunshine, he delivers to your doorstep a copy of your daily paper.

Did you ever stop to picture the empty spot in your own life if there were no welcome thud of a newspaper against your doorstep, no regular visitor with a canvas bag bulging?

Perhaps your newspaperboy trips over his heels once in a while for he's a typical boy with boyish failings. But he's trying his best to do his job the best way he knows how and he's playing a big, too often unsung role in your daily life. He's ambitious, he has initiative, he's a real go-getter or he wouldn't be a newspaperboy. And he is learning invaluable lessons in the art of making friends and the workings of our American way of life—lessons that will come back time and again in the years ahead.

We are happy to take this opportunity during the observance of National Newspaper Week to salute The Freeman carrier boys.

VIVISECTION NEWS

A victory in the effort for freedom of research was recorded at White Plains, N. Y., this week when a suit filed in the Supreme Court of New York State was held to be "insufficient" by Justice Samuel Eager. It was an attempt to defeat the New York state law which allows stray animals, picked up and impounded, to be turned over to laboratories for experimental purposes.

For a long time there has been an active anti-vivisectionist movement in the United States. Little by little, here and there, it has impeded medical science and has possibly been responsible for loss of human lives. Unless science can experiment on animals there is no way to determine the action of many drugs and methods on diseases.

The Judge recognized the property rights of pet owners in the New York case. "But," he qualified, "property rights of an owner are subject to the police power of a state and reasonable demands of a civilized society." He further defined the law as "a much-needed statute to aid the advancement of medical science for the well-being of all."

One point not always understood by the antis is that the strays, left to themselves, are slated to die miserably after suffering. In the laboratory they receive humane treatment and care. They do not suffer.

A scientist says that it will be ten years before there will be any trips made to the moon. That is not far off when it is remembered that it has already been twenty-four years since a Republican candidate made a trip to the White House.

Over a story commenting on the election campaign The New York Times ran the headline "Steaks Are Costly in Play for Texas." The Times might have added that steaks are costly in earnest in all parts of the country.

BAD LOSERS

A sting of defeat in the Olympic Games did not set well with the Russians and Soviet newspapers are still berating the showing their athletes made in Helsinki. Most sports writers from other countries who attended the games thought the Russians gave a good account of themselves. Russian newspapers, however, blame their countrymen for not training hard enough and not taking the competition seriously.

In seventeen out of thirty-three track and field events Russian athletes finished in first, second or third place. When it is remembered that the world's best amateur competitors are sent to the Olympic games it is hard to see how such a showing could displease anyone.

The United States finished first in the games in total number of points and the American team gathered up a good many more first place medals than the Russians. This is probably the bitterest pill the Reds have to swallow after all their propaganda

 By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

MARXISM AND RELIGION

As the years pass, it grows increasingly difficult to understand how some clergymen of various religions uphold Communism and support Soviet Russia's program of world imperialism. The Red Dean of Canterbury is not an outstanding exception. Every list of sponsors of Communist activities in the United States includes Protestant clergymen and Jewish rabbis, who apparently do not relate the purposes of the Marxists with their own beliefs.

The Marxist attitude toward religion was recently stated in Soviet Russia by P. F. Kolonitsky, under the auspices of the "Society for the Dissemination of Scientific and Political Knowledge." Kolonitsky is important enough for his lecture to have been circulated as a brochure.

He said (I am quoting from a condensed version):

"... The Communist ethic is the exact opposite of the religious ethic. They are as incompatible as freedom and slavery, truth and falsehood, light and dark. Communism is the great banner of the struggle for the liberation of the working class, the working people, from slavery and exploitation; religion constitutes an ideology for justifying and preserving slavery and exploitation. ...

"In contrast to the Communist ethic, the religious ethic is an exploiters' ethic. Its precepts are designed to preserve all forms of oppression and exploitation—slave-holding, feudal or bourgeois. Each new ruling class of exploiters adapts religion and its ethic to buttress its rule, but the essence remains the same—the preservation of exploitation, justification in God's name of the ruling classes' dominion over the working people, preaching submission and resignation among the working people."

This is what is being taught in every Communist country, in keeping with Karl Marx's materialistic concepts. There is no God; there is only the eternal struggle between class and class, between the exploiter and the exploited. There is no morality; there is only the struggle between man and his environment. This they believe to be true and with this concept they will not compromise. Therefore those clergymen in our own country who support Marxism are supporting the enemies of God.

Kolonitsky says:

"Religion persistently fills believers with the idea that people can accomplish nothing without God's will, that their whole fate is in God's hands. Man is only a creature of God, a worm, a slave of God. ... It is clear that such an ethic is capable only of extinguishing every will to struggle in man, quelling any impulse of poisoning his soul with the venom of disbelief in his own powers. ... Furthermore, religion preaches renunciation of earthly good, considers earthly life transitory and worthless. ...

"Particularly indicative in this respect is the cult of the sufferings of Christ. ... He is always presented as a model for Christians. 'Christ suffered and bade us to suffer'—this is the most important maxim of Christianity. ...

Not a word is said in this article of the doctrine of love, of pity, of charity. Nothing is said of the effects upon man's mind and conscience of the Ten Commandments, of the beatitudes, of the whole tradition of natural law. It would seem that this is not only a materialistic, atheistic response to Judaeo-Christian beliefs, but also it would seem to indicate that this Master of Philosophy has no knowledge of Christianity except perhaps in its most degradingly ritualistic form.

I wonder what American clergymen and the Red Dean have to say about this:

"Under our conditions religious superstition represents not only religious people's extremely backward notions about the surrounding world, but also vestiges of bourgeois ideology, particularly the bourgeois ethic. Therefore religious superstition is overcome not only through enlightenment, not only through dissemination of knowledge, but through Communist education as a whole. And Communist education, as is known, is a considerably broader idea than simply classroom education. ...

It is important to know what the Communists believe and say in their own country. American apologists for them try to give the impression that they are actually not what they seem to be. It is like the State Department trying to tell us that the Chinese Communists were not Communists at all, but agrarian reformers; that is, until they began to murder our sons in Korea and our missionaries in China.

It is to our advantage to understand that they are not only the enemies of our country but that they abhor our civilization. And what they hate most in our civilization is God.

That Body of Yours
 By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

NECESSARY HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

AS BEFORE, the subject of most interest to men and women is their health and the most discussed single subject about health and body is blood pressure, particularly high blood pressure—hypertension; 'hyper' means above and 'hypo' means below.

That this interest in high blood pressure is only natural is due to the fact that hypertension "occurs in approximately half the people over fifty years of age and contributes directly or indirectly to at least twenty-five per cent of their deaths."

The commonest forms in which disability and death occur from hypertension is heart strokes (coronary thrombosis) and brain strokes (apoplexy).

In his book, "Essential Hypertension," Dr. Richard F. Herndon, of Springfield, Illinois, states that blood pressure may be defined as the lateral pressure exerted on the walls of the blood-vessel by the blood the vessels contain. Blood pressure is the product of the volume of the blood, its viscosity or consistency, the amount of blood pumped out by the heart, and the resistance of the tiny blood-vessels at the end of the arteries (capillaries) and the veins carrying blood back to the heart.

In the normal individual, blood volume and its viscosity are kept quite constant through fluid interchange between plasma (the fluid part of the blood which carries the little blood cells or corpuscles to all parts of the body) and tissue spaces, the secretion (manufacture) of urine, and the reservoir function or action of the spleen with its blood-making apparatus. Thus, under ordinary circumstances, the maintenance of blood pressure depends upon the adjustment of the heart output of blood and the end of the blood-vessel line which vary according to circumstances, to the volume of blood which is always the same in amount.

If this relationship between the volume of blood and the walls of the blood-vessels is changed so that the volume of blood meets more than normal resistance in the blood-vessels or capillaries (tiny blood vessels between arteries and veins), more power behind the blood stream is necessary to pump past or through this resistance and thus we have high blood pressure (hypertension).

"Despite countless investigations and the considerable number of facts that have been revealed, the riddle of essential hypertension remains unsolved." However, one fact that seems to be definitely established is that in the majority of cases, hypertension is an inherited constitutional predisposition. Knowing this, is a safeguard.

Dr. Herndon states that in hypertension (as in many other conditions) it is the patient rather than the malady that requires attention. "The relief of apprehension and fear is particularly important."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington—The Joint Chiefs of Staff have given careful consideration to some plan by which they could end the long-drawn-out Korean stalemate. They fear that if the war drags on for another winter, the American public will become so apathetic that the Defense Department will be in an untenable position.

As a solution, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air chief of staff, has been urging that American ground troops be pulled out of Korea altogether, and the ground war be turned over to American-trained South Koreans. The United Nations, he advises, could provide air support and supply equipment.

Vandenberg argues this will leave the Chinese as the only foreigners in Korea and tend to unite the Koreans against the Chinese. Now, on the other hand, there is considerable Korean feeling against Americans.

Vandenberg also believes Korea might be protected through a public ultimatum by the United Nations that if Chinese aggression is renewed against South Korea, the Chinese mainland would be attacked by air and the Chinese coast would be blockaded by the navy.

However, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, does not agree with Vandenberg. Neither does Gen. Joe Collins, army chief of staff, or to a lesser degree Adm. W. F. Fechteler. They argue that ground troops must remain in Korea until prisoners of war are exchanged.

Thousands of Americans in Communist P.O.W. camps, they say, must not be deserted.

At present, the only obstacle remaining in the talks is the exchange of prisoners and the Chinese seem to have no intention of settling it. However, General Bradley argues that as long as the talks continue, there is hope, and he is adamant that American boys in prison camps must not be left there.

There has been some discussion inside the Defense Department over forcing the Communist hand by blockading the Chinese coast. The navy is all set to carry out this assignment, but the trouble is with our United Nations allies. They are dead set against it. Great Britain is especially adamant on the ground that a blockade might cause her to lose Hong Kong.

Defense Speed-Up — Henry Prayda's bitter attack on U. S. Ambassador George Kennan is the beginning of a campaign to force him out of Russia. The Kremlin knows that Kennan understands Russia all too well, and wants his brilliant reports to the State Department stopped at any cost. ... The navy's television-guided robot planes aren't the only guided missiles being tested in Korea. The army also is experimenting with a top-secret guided missile under battle conditions, while the air force is training two guided-missile squadrons for Korea after the first of the year. ... The Russians have started building long-range bomber bases along the ice-bound Arctic shore of northern Siberia. This is just a short hop across the North Pole from Canada, and within easy range of Seattle, Detroit and Chicago. The Russians have also started making daily weather flights across the North Pole. ... The government will pay out more than $20,000,000 in crop insurance to farmers who lose crops during the summer drought.

To Talk Sunday At Youth Rally

DR. GEORGE HARLEY
 Dr. George W. Harley, medical missionary of the Methodist Church in Liberia, Africa, who is known as the Good Witch of Ganta, will be guest speaker at a Methodist Youth Rally in Trinity Methodist Church Sunday afternoon and evening. Dr. Harley and his wife were pioneer missionaries at the interior village when they arrived in 1925. Since that time they have carved "out of the bush" one of the most progressive mission stations of the church.

In addition to his medical work, Dr. Harley has developed a tile and brick factory, and a sawmill, and has taught Africans how to use them. They in turn helped to expand the mission station to include a hospital, school, blacksmith shop, and other buildings on the 320-acre site.

When the mission dispensary ran out of chaulmoogra oil used in the treatment of Hansen's disease, Dr. Harley found a substitute through experiments with native products of varnish. By cross-breeding a goat he had imported from England and another he had brought from the Canary Islands with native goats, he found a species that gives twice as much milk.

In developing the mission station, Dr. Harley became a road builder and surveyor. His maps are some of the first to be made of remote areas of Liberia. He is one of the few white men ever to become a confidant of African witch doctors; he joined a secret snake society to learn the native treatment of snakebites.

Decorated for Service
 Dr. Harley has been decorated by the Liberian government for "outstanding service to the people of Liberia." He represented that country at the World Health Organization conference on laws in March, 1952, en route to the United States for his furlough. He is an associate in anthropology at Peabody Museum, Harvard University, to which he has contributed a rare collection of masks.

Dr. Harley, born in Asheville, N. C., is the son of a Methodist minister. He is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Duke University. He holds three doctor's degrees: MD from Yale Medical School, Doctor of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene from the School of Tropical Medicine, London, England, and the

Dutch Church Will Display Historical Records on Sunday

Historical documents which were removed from the copper box from the cornerstone of the First Dutch Church last week will be displayed during the regular 10:50 a. m. worship service Sunday.

The articles were removed a week ago in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the local church. Originally, the articles were to be used last Sunday during the re-dedication service but due to the conditions of the articles until tomorrow's service.

Plans are now underway to preserve the contents of the cornerstone in the museum of the church in a week or two and to relay the cornerstone filled with documents pertaining to the centennial of the church and the tercentenary of Kingston.

Will Add New Items
 New items to be added include a copy of The Kingston Daily Freeman, other newspapers and a copy of the new Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible.

Contents taken from the cornerstone last week which will be on display Sunday include the following, according to the historical address given by the Rev. John Garney Van Slyke, DD, on the occasion of the 50th anniversary Sept. 28, 1902:

"A copy of the sacred scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as presented by the late Rev. John Cantine Farrell Hoes, a copy of the Psalms and Hymns of the Reformed Dutch Church in North America, presented by Jonathan D. Ostrander; a copy of the Constitution of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church in North America; with an appendix containing the formularies for the use of the churches, together with the rules and orders for the government of the General Synod; the Catechism, Articles of Faith, Canons of the Synod of Dordrecht and Liturgy; a copy of the minutes of the General Synod of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church for the year 1850, a copy of the minutes of the Particular

Five citizens of Kingston, representative of five fields of Christian endeavor, were presented with copies of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible Tuesday night at the community meeting held at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church in observance of the national release of the new version of the Bible. These citizens, all leaders in the Christian endeavor in the community, were honored as representatives of the five groups rather than as individuals.

The celebration was sponsored by the Kingston Ministerial Association, representing approximately 60 Protestant churches of Kingston and Ulster county, and was a part of a nation-wide celebration of the new Bible. Those who were selected as representatives of the five groups had been selected by a committee to receive the new editions of the Bible. The presentation was symbolic of the work done among the five groups.

From Different Fields
 Those who were honored were Miss Ethel Hull, First Baptist Church, superintendent, representative of the religious education group; Arthur J. Laidlaw, First Reformed Church of Kingston, representative of the secular education group; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, representing the political life group; George V. Dennis, of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council of Boy Scouts, who represented the work among youth group. Dennis was unable to attend and the Bible was accepted on behalf of his group by Mrs. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Baltz, Jr., of the First Presbyterian Church, of which he is superintendent, representing the Christian home group.

Similar services were held in 3,100 communities throughout the country.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Crying Won't Help Improve Your Game

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

If you sometimes lose a game contract that you should have made, don't weep too many bitter tears about it. The greatest experts in the world sometimes do the same thing, if that's any consolation. Today's hand, for example, was misplayed at both tables in the finals of the national team championships a few weeks ago.

In both rooms South played the hand at four hearts against the opening lead of a low spade. Both declarers won the first trick with the ace of spades and promptly drew three rounds of trumps. The third round of trumps was a mistake, but not necessarily fatal.

In both rooms South then continued by finessing a diamond to East's queen. In one room East boldly returned a low spade, and South made the fatal error of ruffing. When he led another diamond, West put up the ace and led another spade to force out declarer's last trump.

Unfortunately, the diamonds were now blocked. South could lead to dummy's king of diamonds, and could get back to his hand with the ace of clubs to lead another diamond to West's jack, but then South could never get in again to cash the last diamond. Down one.

This declarer should have discarded (instead of ruffing) when East led a low spade. Since East had led away from the king of spades, the rest would have been easy. But even if West had turned up with the king of spades, the contract would have depended only on a successful guess in diamonds later on. In short, South would have had two chances for his contract.

In the other room, East was not bold enough to return a spade when he got in with the queen of diamonds. He returned a club, which declarer should have won in the dummy. Instead, South made the mistake of winning in his own hand with the ace. He led a diamond, and West put up the ace.

The curious thing is that the contract cannot be missed if South only draws two rounds of trumps at the beginning of the hand. He then leads a diamond to dummy's king, not caring who has the ace. The defenders can take two or three diamond tricks, depending on their luck, but no more.

The man who enters his wife's dressing-room is either a philosopher or a fool.

—Balzac.

Bill—I shall forever be indebted to that man. He did me a good turn.

Jim—What was that?

Bill—He married my wife's mother.

When an actor has money, he doesn't send letters but telegrams.

—Anton Chekov.

Newlywed—Darling I'm not complaining about your cooking, but I wish you'd learn to make the kind of bread mother used to bake.

Bride—I don't think that should be so hard, if you'll learn to make the dough my father used to make.

Gasoline taxes and other levies on motor vehicles will raise 30 billion dollars in the next 12 years.

Inez—Where can you find tobacco?

Carol—In the tobacco fields in North and South Carolina.

Inez—Oh, I thought you found it in cigars.

Sailor—Oh, Admiral, one of our destroyers is fast in the mud.

Admiral—By Jove! If it's fast in the mud, it should be a record-breaker in water.

It is God who makes woman beautiful, it is the devil who makes her pretty.

—Victor Hugo.

Ethel—He's a lawyer. I hope he doesn't try to break my will.

Mother—You've been out every night this week (looking at her daughter sternly).

Dressen Gables on Joe Black to Apply Quick Crusher on Yankees

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—It appears to be unsafe to write the Dodgers out of this world series. Charlie Dressen's gang has bounce. Going into today's fourth game at the stadium holding a 2-1 lead and with their magnificent rookie, Joe Black, ready to give it another whirl, the National League's were back in the driver's seat, fully recovered from the severe trouncing the Yankees gave them in the second contest. Serious doubts were expressed that the Dodgers would heal in time to get back in the play-off. They answered that one in as they slugged easy Ed Lopat from the hill in yesterday's fine 5 to 3 comeback. Again they looked like a great ball club in every respect, and it was the Bombers' turn to look a good deal less terrific. Peevish Reese showed the throng of 66,698 why the National League considers him to be as brilliant a shortstop as there is in the business. The old geezer, Elwin (Preacher) Roe, showed them pitching class in the pinches which they will remember. It was quite an exhibition.

Still a Gambler
In throwing Black back at Casey Stengel's crew, instead of saving him for relief duty the rest of the way, as he had originally planned, Dressen again proves that he has the heart of a born gambler. But he was taking a mighty shrewd gamble. Should the big Negro beat Allie Reynolds again and make it 3-1 in victories the Dodgers would become overwhelming favorites to win their first world championship. Stengel had no choice but to hand the ball to Reynolds, his only 20-game winner, and hope that the chief would have a better game in his system than he had in losing the opener. Reynolds in his best form is a hard man to shake. The Yankees know now that they have a good game ball team out there against them, and it would be less than surprising if some of their customary confidence was missing after yesterday's depressing experiences. It is not often that the Yanks get licked on a passed ball. Usually they count on such things happening to the other club. Not only did the low pitch which got through Yogi Berra let in the two deciding runs in the top of the ninth, but it bungled Yogi up to where he is certain to be much less than his usually effective self for the balance of the Series, if indeed, he is able to play at all. For some reason known only to himself, the Yank backstop always catches with the index finger of his left hand sticking out of the glove. That was the digit which got split on the play, and he was wearing a bulky bandage on it last night. He said it was "hurting terrible."

There was considerable argument whether Yogi should have been charged with a passed ball. Many observers, including this one, thought that young Tom Gorman, who had just relieved Lopat, cut loose a wild pitch, but the official scorers saw it otherwise. Whichever it was, Berra looked like a fellow playing blind man's bluff as he searched the premises for the pellet while Reese and Jackie Robinson came tearing across the plate. Of course, Andy Patko followed with a single to right field which would have scored them anyhow, but no one will ever know whether he would have made the hit if the wild goings-on had not unsettled Gorman. Reese Tremendous Reese played himself a tremendous game. The old marlin champion from Louisville sparked the Dodger offense with his three hits, one of them a perfect bunt which set up his team's first run in the third. He changed the entire trend of the contest in the fourth when he went far to his left to snag Phil Rizzuto's grounder and toss to Robinson one had gone through, the Yankees would have scored at least two runs and Roe might very well have been on his way to the showers. Roe, we thought, gave his finest performance in the next inning, when, after two were out, Woodling and Berra cracked successive singles. That brought up dangerous Hank Bauer, and Roe's first three pitches to him were balls. It was a ticklish situation, as the veteran left-hander had only a 2-1 lead at the time. His next seven pitches were strikes, and Bauer fouled four of them off before he finally bounced out to second.

George Schick, a steady, competent kiegler through the year, had his moment of glory last night when he led the Ferraro Classic League with a 639 blast. Schick opened with a modest 183 and then fired successive counts of 248 and 208. Runnerup Bill Murray fashioned 216-224-634 and Ed Dasher had 572. Also in the top bracket were Harold Broskie 203-563; Angelo Fondino 213-553; Chris Robinson 202-550; Fred Bruno 240-547; Jake Chichelsky 540.

Gehring Raps 558
Phyl Gehring topped a brilliant 558 series in the Women's Classic at the Bowldrome to capture high triple honors from Bev Port by seven strikes. Miss Gehring reeled off successive scores of 215, 187 and 156, while Mrs. Port shot 172-180-199. Mary Elizabeth Schoonmaker posted 208-513 and Rose Schatzel had 510. Mayne Hutton and Emma Pratt shared 470s; Betty Bailey had 467 and Elizabeth Bruck 466.

Fatum Raps 617
John Fatum's 617 count, with 221-204-192, was best-of-night in the No-Can-Do wheel at the Central Recs. Herbert Ferguson posted 227-571 and Jack Parslow had 210-551. Other good pinfall was credited to Ralph Frederick 212-542, W. Ferguson 539, Orv Van Alstyne 202-533, D. Williams 431; Joseph Maggino 213-530 and Tony Van Gonsic 529.

Bill Sickler was out in front in the Everybody's League with 580. His scores were 224, 209 and 147. Runnerup Jack Houghtaling shot 552. Eltinge Auchmoody 205-548; John Schatzel 547, Bill Atkins 533, H. Rice 531, M. Swart 221-530 and B. Robins 527. Reginald Deyo led the Electrol League with 169-201-198-568 and Earl Slight was runnerup with 567. Eddie Ashdown topped show with 537 and M. Kemlage fired 528. Others in the top bracket were A. La Rocca 208-527; H. Smith 511, Frank Clione 505 and W. Short 502.

June Van Kleec's 457 led the Chet Pioneer Women's League. She rolled games of 129, 153 and 175. Mary Elizabeth Schoonmaker topped 440, Helen Sutton 417, Doris Reese 416 and Livia Tereindi. Ireland Corners keggers maintained their grip on first place in

Truman Chops At Ike and Nixon

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

San Francisco, Oct. 4 (AP)—President Truman assailed General Dwight D. Eisenhower today as "a tool for others" and Senator Richard M. Nixon as a Californian not worthy to lace the shoes of Republican Gov. Earl Warren.

Fighting for this big western state's 32 electoral votes, Truman lashed out at the Republican presidential candidate for what he said was his betrayal by surrender, "all of his surrenders—to narrow selfish men and short-sighted policies."

In his sharpest attack to date on GOP Vice Presidential Nominee Nixon—he did not mention the senatorial expense fund which created a recent political furor over Nixon—the President said the GOP turned away from Gov. Earl Warren in seeking a vice presidential nominee.

Solicitous Over Warren

Instead of recognizing the liberal wing, Truman said, "they turned away from your liberal governor, and chose another Californian who is not worthy to lace his shoes."

Truman's speech was prepared for delivery at a luncheon in the Hotel Palace of the state and county Democratic organizations and the independent citizens committee on election issues.

It was one of two prepared addresses in the Bay area midway on his "Give 'em hell" coast-to-coast stumping tour for Adlai Stevenson. He speaks at a Democratic rally in nearby Oakland at 11:30 p. m. (EST).

GOP Conference Scheduled

Meanwhile, a Republican "truth team," consisting of three GOP senators, changed their tactics of following on the President's heels

Rita Leaves Aly's Home

Paris, Oct. 4 (AP)—Rita Hayworth has left the home of her husband, Prince Aly Khan, and is living in a Paris hotel, her attorney reported today. Apparently, she left two days ago. When she came to Paris two weeks ago, she went straight to the Neuilly home of her husband, against whom she has filed divorce proceedings. They were seen together often afterwards in restaurants and night clubs and allowed themselves to be photographed together. Aly Khan minimized the idea of divorce in talks with reporters last Saturday and Rita said then she did not intend immediately to press through the divorce papers on file in Reno.

Radio System Is Struck

Rome, Oct. 4 (AP)—The chirping bird, station signal of Italy's national radio, was silent today. The whole Italian network was on strike. The shutdown, called by technicians demanding higher pay, began at 5 a. m. and was to continue until midnight. The technicians demanded five per cent increase in basic pay and rejected a counter-proposal of three per cent.

and flew into San Francisco early today from the northwest.

The three—Homer Ferguson of Michigan, Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa and Francis Case of South Dakota—said they wanted to be on hand "to answer" the President while he carries on his Bay area campaign swing.

The trio scheduled a press conference at 10 a. m. PST (1 p. m., EST).

LEGAL NOTICE

PROCLAMATION

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK: TO THE SHERIFF OF THE County of Ulster: GREETINGS

Whereas, a Trial Term of Supreme Court and Jail Delivery is to be held in and for the County of Ulster, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, on Monday, the sixth day of October, 1952, we command you to put in force the provisions of Section 222-a of the Code of Criminal Procedure, in that case made and provided:

FIRST: That you summon the several persons who shall have been drawn as said County of Ulster, pursuant to law, to serve as Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors at the said Court to appear thereat.

SECOND: That you bring before the said Court all prisoners then being in the jail of said County, and with all process and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands as such Sheriff.

THIRD: That you make proclamation in the manner prescribed by Sections 222-c of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognition or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other Officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said Court, or who shall have taken any recognition, or the examination of any witness, to return such recognizance, recognitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of its sitting.

WITNESS: Hon. Herbert D. Hamm, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, the 5th day of September in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty two.

LOUIS G. BRUHN
District Attorney for the County of Ulster

In pursuance of the above precept, I hereby make proclamation that a term of Supreme Court of Ulster County and Jail Delivery will be held at the Court House in Kingston in and for the County of Ulster, the sixth day of October, 1952, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the jail of said County are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognition or otherwise, are required to appear thereat, and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other Officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said Court, or who shall have taken any recognition, or the examination of any witness, to return such recognizance, recognitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of its sitting thereof, and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances to do those things which to their office pertain.

Dated, City of Kingston, N. Y., September 8, 1952.

CLUETT SCHANTZ
Sheriff

The boys are organizing a campaign drum and bugle corps here, but haven't decided to which political party they'll offer their services. Joe Parks predicts that the first party that promises something better in the way of prices than $9.00 for a smoked ham and three or four dollars for a steak will get not only the drum and bugle corps, but a whole band.

Bishop, Priests Sentenced

Vienna, Austria, Oct. 4 (AP)—Dispatches in Vienna newspaper said today that a Communist court in the Bulgarian capital of Sofia has sentenced a Roman Catholic bishop and three priests to be shot after they were convicted on spy charges. The American-sponsored newspaper Wiener Kurier quoted the Bulgarian telegraph agency as reporting the three death sentences and the conviction of 20 other priests on charges of spying and anti-state activities. The death sentences were handed down to Bishop Josephat Shishkov and Fathers Kamen Jonkov, Pavel Djijov and Evgheni Bosilkov.

Ordered From Iran

Tehran, Iran, Oct. 4 (AP)—Another British subject—the fourth in four months—was ordered to leave Iran today by the Iranian government. He is W. H. Jauncey, manager of a service station. As in previous cases, no reason for the expulsion was given. Jauncey was notified his residence permit had been canceled and was given 10 days to quit the country.

Asks TV Debate

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—Vincent Hallinan, Progressive party candidate for president, has invited GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower and Democratic standard-bearer Adlai Stevenson to a public Television debate on Korea. Hallinan, speaking last night at a Brooklyn rally, said neither Eisenhower nor Stevenson had any definite plan for ending the conflict in Korea, whereas he himself is "the only candidate who is calling for an immediate cease fire."

Three Are Injured In Two-Car Crash

Three persons received minor injuries in a two-car collision at the intersection of Route 9W and the Milton Turnpike about 6:15 p. m. Friday, state police reported.

Marcel Boissonade, 49, of R.D. 2, Highland, driver of an automobile attempting to turn from Route 9W into the turnpike, was treated by a Highland physician for lacerations to his right knee and his left eye, troopers said. Lloyd S. Gunter, 33, of Newburgh, who was driving the other vehicle straight south on Route 9W, and his passenger, Robert Messing, 22, also of Newburgh, received cuts and bruises for which they were to be treated by their own doctors, according to the state police report. The front ends of both vehicles were pushed in, troopers said, and both had to be towed from the scene. No arrest was made.

Bigger Case Is Dismissed

The case of George Bigler of Connelly, charged with driving while intoxicated June 8, was dismissed in city court this morning. Attorney Francis Martocci, representing Bigler, moved that the case be dismissed. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn consented to the dismissal, explaining that Louis Carpio, whose car had been involved in a collision involving Bigler, had written him a letter in which he stated that, in his opinion, the accident had been unavoidable and that the defendant had not been in an intoxicated condition at the time.

Gambling Machines Seized

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (AP)—More than 600 gambling machines stood at assembly points today in the wake of what may turn out to be the biggest series of gambling raids ever staged by Pennsylvania State Police. The raids were conducted in western and central Pennsylvania with Erie county, where more than 400 machines were taken into custody, the focal point.

Firemen Answer Variety of Calls

The fire department answered one call yesterday afternoon and three this morning involving two oil burners, an explosion and an automobile accident.

At 12:20 a. m. today, in answer to a call from city police, firemen took equipment to Abel street near Wilbur avenue where a car had gone off the bank and turned over on its side, trapping the driver, Edward Barthelness of Brookhaven, L. I. The vehicle was turned right side up and Barthelness freed. He was taken to Kingston Hospital to be treated for facial cuts, according to Officers William Hanley and Harold Bowers who investigated.

Barthelness told police that a car came toward him on the wrong side of the road and that he pulled left to avoid a collision. At 6:06 a. m. today firemen extinguished a blaze at the Yacht Club Bar and Grill at 332 Abel street. The fire, caused by ignition of a leak in the oil line near the burner, was extinguished with pyrene without damage, it was reported.

At 7:21 a. m. a gas and coal range exploded in the kitchen of a two-story frame dwelling at 38 Sherman street occupied by Ralph Cole. According to the fire department, Cole had removed a hot water boiler from a combination gas and coal range and had plugged both outlets of the water front. Mrs. Cole started a fire in the stove, they said, built up steam and the range blew up. Firemen went to a two-story frame dwelling at 435 Abel street, owned by Francis O'Neill and occupied by Edward Houghton, at 5:59 p. m. yesterday, where an oil space heater was out of adjustment.

Your Life and Mine

The Best of the Bargain

I wonder why it is that we always think of the best of the bargain in terms of "getting by" with as little effort as possible or "doing" the other fellow out of all we can. It seems strange after all the evidence that the centuries pile on our doorsteps to the contrary, that we should keep right on living by the erroneous principle that the real dividends are paid by selfishness and dishonesty and the avoidance of effort.

The gadget age probably contributes to this fatal error to which we give out utmost devotion. We are encouraged to "wax our floors the easy way" and do everything else the easy way; and it kind of gets into our blood. We seek out every promising side-alley that can by-pass the main street of a good honest facing of life and responsibility and it never seems to occur to us that we might be getting the worst of the bargain. After all that the centuries of human experience have to say to us we still go right on, believing that loafing and cheating, and "doing" the other fellow out of all we can, are the real ways to get ahead.

Don't get me wrong! I'm not doing battle against the gadgets. But in some realms the easy ways are our worst enemies. Alain, a French philosopher who died about a year ago, had no use for "digests." He called them "summaries that enslave our minds." You can't sow laziness and reap the glorious sense of achievement. You can't skirt the disciplines of life and master either the skills or the arts. You can't build character out of the crumbly blocks of unprincipled daily living. In running away from the hard and honest ways we blindly run right into the waiting trap of unsatisfying and thrillsless life.

Honesty is the best policy—even from the standpoint of getting the best of life's bargain. For, as Mark Twain had Huckleberry Finn confess: "Conscience can take up more room than all the other parts of a fellow's insides." No man comes away with the best of the bargain who has shattered his conscience maneuvering his bargain—no matter how much extra money he may have jingling in his pocket for his trouble.

B. C. Forbes has said: "Instead of always trying to get the best of the bargain, try giving the best of it once in a while. I would like to improve on Forbes and state it this way: 'Giving the best is the only way to get the best of life's bargain.'"

"Then give to the world the best that you have. And the best will come back to you."

Steamer Is Sunk

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Dirkswager Shipping Agency reported today that the Spanish steamer Facho was sunk in a fog-bound collision with the British steamer Granford off the west coast of Spain. The report said 37 crewmen of the 3,224-ton Spanish vessel were taken aboard the 7,087-ton Granford which was proceeding to Lisbon under its own power.

Embezzlement Reported

Freeport, Me., Oct. 4 (AP)—An $85 a week Freeport bank manager described by fellow townsmen as one of the most respected members of his community, has admitted embezzling "at least $158,000" in bank funds, a U. S. attorney said today.

General Is Slain

Tokyo, Sunday, Oct. 5 (AP)—Col. Aubrey D. Smith, chief of the Far East command's plans and operations supply section, died Saturday of a knife wound which Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters said was "allegedly inflicted by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Smith." Mrs. Smith is identified by Who's Who in America as the daughter of Gen. Walter Krueger, retired, famous World War 2 commander of the U. S. Sixth Army.

Dutchess CD Leader Says Fund Too Much

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—Dutchess county civil defense director Keene Richards said yesterday that his 1953 budget request of $24,275 constitutes a "preposterous amount" to be spending on civil defense in the county.

His remarks were made in a letter when he filed the request with the county budget officer who will transfer it to the county board of supervisors.

Richards, a retired army colonel, is the general manager of Vassar College and is serving on civil defense on a voluntary basis.

"Should the board of supervisors see fit to cut this appropriation there will be no complaint from this office," Richards said. He added that "practically every item" requested in the budget was "beyond local control" and that the request was about five times the amount spent in civil defense in 1950 in the county.

U.S. Will Hit . . .

lect, then I think we should serve clear notice on the Communists that we will have no ambassador at all," Sen. Morse commented.

British Are Surprised

British officials expressed surprise and concern at Russia's move, and speculated privately in London that it would bring retaliatory U. S. action against Zarubin. The result, they said, would be a worsening of U. S.-Russian relations.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky served the demand for Kewen's recall on the eve of the Russian Communist Congress opening Sunday in Moscow. Some authorities viewed it as part of a propaganda curtain raiser.

The demand was based on remarks made by Kennan Sept. 19 in West Germany. He compared life of Americans in Moscow with the internment he underwent in Nazi Germany after Pearl Harbor.

Kennan was stationed with an American mission in Berlin when Germany declared war on the U. S. Recalling his five-month internment in 1941-42, he told reporters last Sept. 19:

"Had the Nazis permitted us to walk the streets without having the right to talk to any Germans, that would be precisely how we have to live today in Moscow."

Word from Moscow was that the move came as a definite surprise to both American and other diplomats there.

Author of Policy

Kennan, a scholarly former member of the State Department Policy Planning Board who was widely credited with being the author of the western "containment" policy toward communism, has served as ambassador less than five months.

The Soviet demand made it impossible for him to return to Moscow from Geneva, where he was visiting his 16-year-old daughter Elizabeth Joan, a student at the international school there.

Kennan, reached at Geneva, would not comment on yesterday's developments. He said he assumed that his wife and three other children, now in Moscow, "will be coming out of there."

Kennan will return soon to Washington for conferences and a probable reassignment.

commented. And he went on with his address.

Eisenhower made it clear during a day of whistle-stopping in McCarthy's home state that he didn't agree with the methods McCarthy has used in his anti-Communist campaign although he was supporting him for re-election.

McCarthy's enemies have accused him of using "smear" tactics in his campaign which has made him one of the most bitterly controversial figures in American politics.

Eisenhower has deplored such tactics and said Communists can be rooted from the government without tainting the names of innocent people.

"We have the right to call a spade a spade," Eisenhower said. "That means, in every proved case, the right to call a Red a Red. The time is past when we can hide our heads in the sands of stubborn ignorance or spend our days in the lesurly indulgence of abstract argument."

He referred to the "Red herring" statement by President Truman in the case of Alger Hiss, the former State Department official convicted of perjury after denying he gave government secrets to the Red spy ring.

Eisenhower said: "There are those who cheered the blithe dismissal of the Alger Hiss case as a 'red herring.'"

Refers to Adlai Speech

And then he referred to a Stevenson speech on communism, saying "an administration servant grandly declared" Communists in government were "not very important" and too much time should not be wasted "chasing phantoms."

Eisenhower said: "Do you think these fish stories, ghost stories, and animal stories are really very amusing? Such comedy touches that little relief in the tragic knowledge that we have been for years the gullible victims of Communist espionage experts."

"These experts in treason have plundered us of secrets involving our highest diplomatic decisions, our atomic research. Tragically, we do not know how much more our security may have been jeopardized."

He added: "This, I repeat, has been a calamity of immeasurable consequence," and to minimize it "is criminal folly."

Then he said: "You can never cure malignant growth just by a hearty beside manner."

Eisenhower had said earlier there were "some among us who argued cunningly" for the idea that democracy and communism both believed in freedom.

He said this idea insinuated itself into schools, public forums, labor unions and government.

"What did this penetration into government mean?" he said. "It meant contamination in some degree of virtually every department, every agency, every bureau, every section of government. It meant a government by men whose very brains were confused by the opiate of this deceit."

He named these men as the advisors who formed American foreign policy. And he added: "This penetration meant a domestic policy whose tone was set by men who sneered and scoffed at warnings of the enemy infiltrating our most secret councils."

"It meant—in its most ugly triumph—treason itself."

In conclusion, Eisenhower told his audience: "We have all had enough, I believe, of men who seem to feel that freedom can do nothing but fret and whine as it watches its own slow, sure death. 'The future of this country belongs to more courageous men.'"

He said he would return soon to Washington for conferences and a probable reassignment.

Bigler Case Is Dismissed

The case of George Bigler of Connelly, charged with driving while intoxicated June 8, was dismissed in court this morning. Attorney Francis Martocci, representing Bigler, moved that the case be dismissed. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn consented to the dismissal, explaining that Louis Carpio, whose car had been damaged in a collision involving Bigler, had written him a letter in which he stated that, in his opinion, the accident had been unavoidable and that the defendant had not been in an intoxicated condition at the time.

Gambling Machines Seized

Harrisburg, Oct. 4 (AP)—More than 600 gambling machines stored at assembly points today in the wake of what may turn out to be the biggest series of gambling raids ever staged by Pennsylvania State Police. The raids were conducted in western and central Pennsylvania with Eric county, where more than 400 machines were taken into custody, the focal point.

Firemen Answer Variety of Calls

The fire department answered one call yesterday afternoon and three this morning involving two oil burners, an explosion and an automobile accident.

At 12:20 a. m. today, in answer to a call from city police, firemen took equipment to Abeel street near Wilbur avenue where a car had gone off the bank and turned over on its side, trapping the driver, Edward Barthelme of Brookhaven, L. I. The vehicle was turned right side up and Barthelme freed. He was taken to Kingston Hospital to be treated for facial cuts, according to Officers William Hanley and Harold Bowers who investigated.

Barthelme told police that a car came toward him on the wrong side of the road and that he pulled left to avoid a collision. At 6:06 a. m. today firemen extinguished a blaze at the Yacht Club Bar and Grill at 332 Abeel street. The fire, caused by ignition of a leak in the oil line near the burner, was extinguished with pyrene without damage, it was reported.

At 7:21 a. m. a gas and coal range exploded in the kitchen of a two-story frame dwelling at 38 Sherman street occupied by Ralph Cole. According to the fire department, Cole had removed a water boiler from a combination gas and coal range and had plugged both outlets of the water front. Mrs. Cole started a fire in the stove, they said, built up steam and the range blew up. Firemen went to a two-story frame dwelling at 435 Abeel street, owned by Francis O'Neill and occupied by Edward Houghton, at 5:59 p. m. yesterday, where an oil space heater was out of adjustment.

Honesty is the best policy—even from the standpoint of getting the best of life's bargain. For, as Mark Twain had Huckleberry Finn confess: "Conscience can take up more room than all the other parts of a fellow's insides." No man comes away with the best of the bargain who has shattered his conscience, manuevering his bargain—no matter how much extra money he may have jingling in his pocket for his trouble.

B. C. Forbes has said: "Instead of always trying to get the best of the bargain, try giving the best of it once in a while." I would like to improve on Forbes and state it this way: "Giving the best is the only way to get the best of life's bargain."

"Then give to the world the best that you have. And the best will come back to you."

Steamer Is Sunk

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Dirkswager Shipping Agency reported today that the Spanish steamer Facho was sunk in a fog-bound collision with the British steamer Granford off the west coast of Spain. The report said 37 crewmen of the 3,234-ton Spanish vessel were taken aboard the 7,087-ton Granford, which was proceeding to Lisbon under its own power.

Embezzlement Reported

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

The Best of the Bargain
I wonder why it is that we always think of the best of the bargain in terms of "getting by" with as little effort as possible or "doing" the other fellow out of all we can. It seems strange, after all of the evidence that the centuries pile on our doorsteps to the contrary, that we should keep right on living by the erroneous principle that the real dividends are paid by selfishness and dishonesty and the avoidance of effort.

The gadget age probably contributes to this fatal error to which we give out utmost devotion. We are encouraged to "wax our floors the easy way" and do everything else the easy way; and it kind of gets into our blood. We seek out every promising side-alley that can by-pass the main street of a good honest facing of life and responsibility and it never seems to occur to us that we might be getting the worst of the bargain. After all that the centuries of human experience have to say to us we still go right on believing that loafing and cheating, and "doing" the other fellow out of all we can, are the real ways to get ahead.

Don't get me wrong! I'm not doing battle against the gadgets. But in some realms the easy ways are our worst enemies. Alain, a French philosopher who died about a year ago, had no use for "dishonesties that enslave our minds." You can't sow laziness and reap the glorious sown of achievement. You can't skirt the disciplines of life and master either the skills or the arts. You can't build character out of the crumbly blocks of unprincipled daily living. In running away from the hard and honest ways we blindly run right into the snare of unsatisfying and thrifless life.

The Soviet demand made it impossible for him to return to Moscow from Geneva, where he was visiting his 16-year-old daughter Elizabeth Joan, a student at the international school there. Kennan, reached at Geneva, would not comment on yesterday's developments. He said he assumed that his wife and three other children, now in Moscow, "will be coming out of there."

Kennan will return soon to Washington for conferences and a probable reassignment.

Small Crowds Greet
GOP Sen. Robert A. Taft on Taft's home grounds, jabbing at Eisenhower as embracing Taft and "Old Guard" isolationists, and telling the people the Democratic Party is the one that understands their needs.

The crowds that saw the Illinois governor come and go in Ohio were considerably less in numbers and enthusiasm than those which welcomed Eisenhower to the Buckeye State two weeks ago.

That was the case both in Cincinnati, Taft's home town, and in Columbus, where Taft and Stevenson were speaking almost simultaneously in halls a quarter of a mile apart.

Taft said election of Stevenson would mean "a continuation of the wavering, unstable, pro-Communist philosophy that has almost brought the country to destruction."

Dutchess CD Leader Says Fund Too Much

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—Dutchess county civil defense director Keene Richards said yesterday that his 1953 budget request of $24,275 constitutes a "preposterous amount" to be spending on civil defense in the county.

His remarks were made in a letter when he filed the request with the county budget officer who will transfer it to the county board of supervisors.

Richards, a retired army colonel, is the general manager of Vassar College and is serving on civil defense on a voluntary basis.

"Should the board of supervisors see fit to cut this appropriation there will be no complaint from this office," Richards said. He added that "practically every item" requested in the budget was "beyond local control" and that the request was about five times the amount spent in civil defense in 1950 in the county.

British Are Surprised

British officials expressed surprise and concern at Russia's move, and speculated privately in London that it would bring retaliatory U. S. action against Zarinin. The result, they said, would be a worsening of U. S. Russian relations.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky served the demand for Kennan's recall almost on the eve of the Russian Communist Congress opening Sunday in Moscow. Some authorities viewed it as part of a propaganda curtain raiser.

The demand was based on remarks made by Kennan Sept. 19 in West Germany. He compared life of Americans in Moscow with the internment he underwent in Nazi Germany after Pearl Harbor.

Kennan was stationed with an American mission in Berlin when Germany declared war on the U. S. Recalling his five-month internment in 1941-42, he told reporters last Sept. 19:

"Had the Nazis permitted us to walk the streets without having the right to talk to any Germans, that would be precisely how we have to live today in Moscow."

Word from Moscow was that the move came as a definite surprise to both American and other diplomats there.

Ike Says Opponents

commented. And he went on with his address.

Eisenhower made it clear during a day of whistle-stopping in McCarthy's home state that he didn't agree with the methods McCarthy has used in his anti-Communist campaign although he was supporting him for re-election.

McCarthy's enemies have accused him of using "sneer" tactics in his campaign which has made him one of the most bitterly controversial figures in American politics.

Eisenhower has deplored such tactics and said Communists can be rooted from the government without tainting the names of innocent people.

"We have the right to call a spade a spade," Eisenhower said. "That means, in every proved case, the right to call a Red a Red. The time is past when we can hide our heads in the sand of stubborn ignorance or spend our days in the leisurely indulgence of abstract argument."

He referred to the "Red herring" statement by President Truman in the case of Alger Hiss, the former State Department official convicted of perjury after denying he gave government secrets to the Red spy ring.

Eisenhower said: "There are those who cheered the blithe dismissal of the Alger Hiss case as a 'red herring.'"

Refers to Adlai Speech

And then he referred to a Stevenson speech on communism, saying "an administration servant grandly declared" Communists in government were "not very important" and too much time should not be wasted "chasing phantoms."

Eisenhower said: "Do you think these fish stories, ghost stories, and animal stories are really very amusing? Such comedy touches do little to relieve the tragic knowledge that we have been for years the gullible victims of Communist espionage experts."

"These experts in treason have plundered us of secrets involving our highest diplomatic decisions, our atomic research. Tragically, we do not know how much more our security may have been jeopardized."

He added: "This, I repeat, has been a calamity of incalculable consequence," and to minimize it "is criminal folly."

Then he said: "You can never cure malignant growth just by a hearty bedside manner."

Eisenhower had said earlier there were "some among us who argued cunningly" for the idea that democracy and communism both believed in freedom.

He said this idea insinuated itself into schools, public forums, labor unions and government.

"What did this penetration into government mean?" he said. "It meant contamination in some degree of virtually every department, every agency, every bureau, every section of government. It meant a government by men whose very brains were confused by the opiate of this deceit."

He named these men as the advisors who formed American foreign policy. And he added: "This penetration meant a domestic policy whose tone was set by men who sneered and scoffed at warnings of the enemy infiltrating our most secret counsels."

"It meant—in its most ugly triumph—treason itself."

In conclusion, Eisenhower told his audience: "We have all had enough, I believe, of men who seem to feel that freedom can do nothing but fret and whine as it watches its own slow, sure death. 'The future of this country belongs to more courageous men.'" when considering a new roof or siding job . . .

Ask Yourself These Questions:

If you are approached by an itinerant applicator offering a "bargain" on a new roof for your home, or siding job, ask yourself these important questions:

1. DO I KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THE SALESMAN OR HIS COMPANY?

2. HAVE I ASKED THE SALESMAN OR HIS COMPANY FOR REFERENCES?

3. HAVE I REASON TO BELIEVE THAT THE COMPANY WILL BE IN EXISTENCE AND FINANCIALLY ABLE TO FULFILL ITS GUARANTEES FIVE OR TEN YEARS FROM NOW?

4. HAVE I OBTAINED A PRICE ON THIS JOB ON EXACTLY THE SAME SPECIFICATIONS FROM MY LOCAL DEALER?

5. DOES THE COMPANY PROVIDE LIABILITY AND COMPENSATION INSURANCE TO PROTECT ME IN case of accident?

6. DO I KNOW THE BRAND GRADE OR QUALITY OF MATERIAL I am getting?

7. IN THE EVENT I PAY FOR THE JOB ON AN INSTALLMENT BASIS, do I know what finance company will have my note?

IF THE ANSWER TO ANY OF THESE QUESTIONS IS "NO" — BE CAREFUL!
